Bracken To Retire; Fall Convention To Name P.C. Leader

OTTAWA (CP)—John Bracken today announced his forthcoming retirement from the Progressive Conservative Party leadership and called on the membership to select a "younger" man for the post.

He said he was retiring because of his age—he is 65—and ill-health.

He made the disclosure in a letter to J. M. Macdonnell, president of the National Progressive Conservative Association and M.P. for Muskoka-Ontario, written July 17 and made public today.

In his letter Mr. Bracken said it was his intention formally to tender his resignation at the convention.

There was an immediate stir of speculation in political circles here as to who would be the new leader. Names which came to the fore were those of Premier DREW of Ontario, 53, John Diefenbaker, 52, Member of Parliament for Lake Centre, Sask., Gordon Graydon, 51, Member for Peel, Ont., and Donald Fleming, Member for Toronto-Eglinton.

Mr. Diefenbaker, widely-known lawyer from Saskatchewan, was one of the candidates defeated by Mr. Bracken when he won the party leadership at the Winnipeg convention in 1942.

Mr. Bracken's announcement, ending a political career which began when he became Premier of Manitoba in 1922, came almost six months to the day after Prime Minister King disclosed last Jan. 20—that he, too, was putting aside the burdens of political leadership.

Suggests younger leader... JOHN BRACKEN

Mr. Macdonnell promptly called a meeting of the association executive to be held here July 26 to decide the date for a convention to select Mr. Bracken's successor.

2 Party Conclaves In Same Year

His announcement, therefore, brings another parallel—two leadership-selecting political conventions in one year. The National Liberal convention, to choose Mr. King's successor, is to be held here Aug. 5, 6, and 7. The Progressive Conservative convention, now called by Mr. Bracken, likely will take place in the early fall at a site yet to be determined.

Upon learning of Mr. Bracken's decision, Mr. King immediately issued a statement expressing his regret and expressing the hope "the measure of freedom thereby secured from exacting duties and anxieties will afford what may be needed to bring about a speedy restoration of his health and strength."

In his letter to Mr. Macdonnell, Mr. Bracken said that although his physical condition gave no cause for "immediate concern" he had been advised twice during the last year to "take things easier." Reluctantly, then, he felt he should ask that the leadership be placed on "younger shoulders."

Mr. Bracken, who succeeded Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, took the party leadership at a time when its political fortunes were at their lowest point in a history that stretched back to Confederation and beyond.

IN 1945 ELECTION

The party had won only 39 seats in the 1935 general election and the same number in the 1940 election. Mr. Bracken accepted the leadership in 1942 and led the party to victory in 67 seats in the 1945 general election. He himself ran in Neepawa, Man., and was elected by a substantial majority.

4 Drown As Truck, Auto Plunge From Red River Ferry

LETELLIER, Man. (CP)—Four persons were drowned Sunday when a car and a truck rolled off a ferry into the Red River about 2½ miles southeast of here. Two others escaped.

The dead: Mrs. John Jones, 30, Dominion City, Man., and her two children, Lyn, eight, and a three-month-old baby; and Gustav Marsh, 60, of Rosenfeld, Man.

Mr. Jones, 32, and Mrs. Marsh, 58, escaped after the vehicles had hit the water.

R.C.M.P. said the truck driven by Mr. Jones boarded the ferry at the east side of the river, and was parked with the front bumper against the guard chain of the ferry boat. The car driven by Mr. Marsh, while boarding the boat, struck the truck, breaking the chain. Both vehicles rolled into 15 feet of water.

Mrs. Jones and the two children were trapped in the truck. Mr. Marsh broke free, but was carried downstream, where he disappeared under the strong current.

ANTWERP (Reuter)—A calf born here has only one eye, in the middle of its forehead, and a tongue twice the normal size.

Stocks Dip Sharply, Then Regain Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market carried through a last-ditch rally late today and effectively blocked one of the severest declines in almost two years.

Closing prices were down $1 to $12 a share although extreme losses were trimmed $1 to $4 a share in many cases.

Aggressive selling started last Thursday, carried through Friday, and was resumed with new vigor today.

Selling was caused mainly by professional traders who were worried about what appeared to be the increasingly ominous tone of the news concerning Berlin.

Public participation in the market was slim. This has been the case for some time.

Soviet Not Invited To See Canadian Camp

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence headquarters today announced arrangements for a group of foreign military attaches to visit Valcartier Military Camp at Quebec and deliberately excluded the Soviet Union from the guest list.

Army officials said the Soviet representative, Lt.-Col. Nikolai N. Zerof, was excluded for the same reason that he was left out of a similar visit to Shilo Camp last year—that Russia had denied such privileges to Canada in the Soviet Union.

1 Killed, 2 Injured In Collision

Thrown from this badly damaged car following a collision, Edwin H. Clark was instantly killed on the Sooke Road near Colwood Corner Saturday night. (See story, page 3.)

The other car involved in the crash, driven by Thomas F. Parsons, is shown above. Both Mr. Parsons and Ernest Fisher, a passenger in the Clark car, were seriously injured but will recover.

Allies Meet In Berlin As Tension Increases

BERLIN (AP)—The three western military governors met for four hours in blockaded Berlin today discussing plans for the projected government in Western Germany.

A United States spokesman afterward said the Russian land blockade, now in its second month, was not discussed.

In Washington, however, President Truman called top army and diplomats to the White House to discuss the grave problem. Leading U.S. officials regard the danger of war as extremely great.

(Newspapers in London spoke frankly of the danger of war between Russia and the west. Cabinet ministers of the Western European Union—Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg—met at The Hague to discuss their common interests in the Berlin crisis.)

(C. F. Mayhew, British Under-Secretary of State for foreign affairs, rejected in Parliament a suggestion might seek a meeting of the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China, under auspices of the United Nations, to preserve peace.)

The commanders-in-chief in Germany of the United States, Britain and France discussed French objections and German counter-proposals to plans for the western Germany government to establish a separate regime in one of the underlying causes of Russian action in stopping rail, road and barge traffic to Berlin, which lies deep in the Russian occupation zone.

The governors will meet again tomorrow.

U.S. air operations officials said the blockade-busting air lift is running smoothly in the finest weather British and American pilots have experienced in recent days.

The R.A.F. started flying in desperately needed coal from Fesberg, near Hanover. Planes were switched from the food run to carry coal at an estimated transport cost of $60 a ton.

Informants reported that the Western Allies may be planning new, stiffer notes to Russia. Unlike the first, which the Russians turned down, these might embody threats of reprisal sanctions unless the blockade is lifted at a set time.

Speculation that the Western Allies are planning to force a showdown was heightened by a statement of Maj.-Gen. William J. Donovan, which suggested that sanctions be applied "promptly and decisively not only against the Soviet Union, but against her satellites as well."

In Berlin on a mission described as private, Donovan said that only by a demonstration of strength would the Western Allies "have any assurance of stopping a dictator."

$7,300 Radio Prize Not Worth Bother

HUNTINGTON, West Virginia (AP)—Mrs. Jack Adams, whose husband won $7,300 Saturday night on a radio quiz contest, said today they were turning down the prize because "we're just worn out."

The attractive housewife said she and her husband hadn't had a minute's rest since news of their good fortune got about.

"We don't figure it's worth the trouble," she said. "Our health won't stand it, so we've decided not to take the money."

Truman Must Face Widespread Attacks In Special Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Angry southern Democrats, as well as Republicans, today marked President Truman as a target for hot criticism in the coming special session of Congress.

Senator McClellan, Dem., Ark., made it clear that Dixie Party members who didn't walk out of the Philadelphia convention aren't going along docilely with the President's summer law-making program for civil rights measures, inflation control steps and housing and education aids.

The Arkansas senator, who fought Mr. Truman's nomination but stayed in the party, told a reporter that unless some international developments require Congressional action, the recall of the lawmakers for next Monday may prove "tragic."

"If the President's program, as he outlined it to the Democratic convention, is carried out," McClellan said, "we will have either uncontrolled inflation because of the government spending he proposes, or a police state."

2 Arab Nations Turn Down Truce, Continue Battle

BAGHDAD (Reuter)—An official statement today said Iraq and Syria had rejected the Palestine truce when it was discussed at the Arab League political committee meeting at Alep, the Lebanon.

The official Arab League statement said:

"Iraq and Syria have voted against the Security Council's decision for a cease-fire in Palestine and rejected the Palestine truce request in the Arab League political meeting at Alep Sunday night when the same committee accepted the truce by a majority of votes of the five remaining Arab states—Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan, the Lebanon and Yemen."

NEW ATTACKS

CAIRO (AP)—Israel charged today that Syrian and Iraqi troops are engaged in widespread offensive operations in northern Palestine in defiance of the truce imposed by the United Nations.

A radio dispatch quoted an official Israeli report as saying Syrian troops attacked the Jewish settlements of Einbeg, Sussita and Sha'ar Hagolan, south of the Sea of Galilee.

The Syrians employed heavy guns, the report said, and fighting still was going on this morning.

GUYS IN ACTION

On the Jenin front the report said, Iraqi troops opened heavy artillery fire on Jewish-held Zirin, 6½ miles north of Jenin, and on Jewish positions at Lajjun.

Jewish forces entered the battle, which is still in progress, the report said.

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—Hundreds of civilians and soldiers searched today for four-year-old Bobby Kirkland, who disappeared from his home Saturday. It is feared he may have stowed away in a passing motor car.

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—John Bracken will continue to be the Progressive Conservative candidate for the Brandon constituency in the next federal election, Morgan W. R. John, secretary of the party's political association, said today.

Pay Demand Cut

VANCOUVER (CP)—Shipyards workers here, seeking wage increases, today cut their demands to 20 cents an hour from the original 35 cents. Employers have offered a pay boost of 10 cents an hour.

Vegetable Prices Start Downgrade

VANCOUVER (CP)—Housewives here had more good news today—the prices of vegetables are on the downgrade. Retail potato prices dropped sharply, and cabbage, carrots and turnips are expected to follow suit. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board cut its wholesale prices for potatoes from $70 to $50 a ton. The decrease reflects bumper crops on the lower mainland this year.

No emotion was displayed by Jacob E. Wied, 38, 1025 Yates Street, when he appeared in the prisoner's dock in city police court before Magistrate H. C. Hall today on a charge of murdering his wife, Evelyn Wied.

He was remanded to next Monday. C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said he hoped to be ready to proceed with the preliminary hearing by that time.

Mrs. Wied died in Jubilee Hospital at 12.25 Sunday morning. City police, responding to a call by accused at about 6.30 Saturday night, found the No. 1 room they occupied in the Yates Street boarding house in a state of disorder and blood splattered. The 39-year-old wife was bleeding profusely from a deep knife wound.

She died less than six hours later in hospital.

Patrick J. Sinnott is appearing as defence counsel.

While Bessie L. Spence, acting as court stenographer in the absence of William O. Ostler, was reading the charge to the accused, he appeared undisturbed, standing with his hands clasping

Knife Penetrates Right Lung

Dr. G. W. C. Bissett, who attended the injured woman at hospital, said the knife thrust started at the base of the right side of the neck above the collarbone and penetrated into the right lung.

At first it was not thought the wound would be fatal.

City police were called by the husband, who adopted Canada as his home 29 years ago, in a telephone message to the Flisgard Street station asking for a doctor or first-aid man "because my wife is bleeding." Chief of Detectives Harry Mercer, in charge of investigations, said.

Constables Bonar Hannay, Alex Nichol and Aldon Appleton and Detective Alex Briggs attended and found Mrs. Wied bleeding profusely.

The bed where Mrs. Wied was lying was saturated with blood, as was the clothing she was wearing. There was broken crockery on the floor, empty beer bottles under the bed, and in the centre of the room was a pan partly filled with blood-stained water. The table had been set for a cold-meat supper.

Before Mrs. Wied passed away in the hospital, police interviewed her.

Dr. Bissett is quoted by police as saying after his first survey of the injuries that Mrs. Wied would not be out of danger for four or five days due to the risk of pneumonia setting in.

When first arrested, Wied was booked on a charge of occasioning his wife grievous bodily harm.

An inquest will be held tomorrow morning at 10 at Sands' Mortuary Ltd. A post-mortem is being conducted to determine the exact cause of death.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Humble, Suite 2, when interviewed by a Times reporter, said they heard screams emanating from the Wied room next door between 5.30 and 5.45. They did not take exact note of the time.

The dead woman is also survived by one sister, Mrs. George Johnson, Cowichan Lake, and a niece, Lillian Cumming, 430 Luxton Street.

This is the second tragedy in Mrs. Johnson's life in the last month. Recently her husband passed away.

Engineer Of Ship Remanded On Charge Of Strike Shooting

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—Chief engineer M. J. Murphy of the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Lethbridge was remanded today until tomorrow on a charge of shooting with intent to cause grievous bodily harm to Eddie Rogozinsky of Saskatoon, a member of the Canadian Seamen's Union. Bail was set at $2,000.

Rogozinsky and four other C.S.U. members were sprayed with gun shot last Wednesday when they boarded the Lethbridge at Point Edward, near here. Rogozinsky was the most seriously wounded. His condition is still described as serious.

Canada Steamship Lines and three other shipping companies refuse to sign a working agreement with the C.S.U., claiming the union is Communist-led. The companies signed an agreement with J. A. (Pat) Sullivan's independent Canadian Lake Seamen's Union.

Rogozinsky and his companions boarded the Lethbridge to induce the C.L.S.U. crew to leave the ship.

Appear In Court

OTTAWA (CP)—Four car-theft suspects were remanded a week without election of plea when they appeared in police court here today on two charges of stealing automobiles from city streets.

The four—James Casey, 38; John Seligman, 38; Charles Spivak, 21, and William Olsen, 36, were arrested in Montreal Friday. In making the arrests police claimed they might have smashed a $500,000 stolen-car ring.

Chinese Say Fuel By Burning Money

TSINAN, China (AP)—When the Tsinan power plant almost ran out of coal, plant officials saved the day by burning money.

Several days' coal supply was saved by burning more than 100 cases of cheap Chinese currency in small denominations.

With the U.S. dollar today worth more than 8,000,000 yuan, people no longer will accept small bills of less than 10,000 yuan denomination.

Port Renfrew Residents Optimistic About Future

Residents of Port Renfrew, on the west coast of Vancouver Island are optimistic about the future of their lumbering settlement.

They are confident that the time is not far off when the long-awaited West Coast Road will link Port Renfrew with other island points.

Although only about a dozen miles of heavily wooded country now separates the port from the end of a logging road past Jordan River, the link will probably be made with the Island Highway via Shawanigan Lake.

At the present time, there is a 23-mile road from Shawanigan village to the end of steel. From there, Port Renfrew is reached by a 16-mile spur road. The recent announcement by the federal government that $45,700 has been earmarked for construction of a telegraph and telephone line to the port from Shawanigan indicates that the intention is that the road to the west coast will eventually follow this route.

The people of Port Renfrew feel that the whole area will open up rapidly once the road is through.

It is reported that eastern gold mining interests are testing samples from the Sombrio Creek area, a few miles down the coast from Renfrew. In the past 20 years there have been five different gold surveys, all favorable.

A large B.C. lumbering organization is said to have completed a survey of the area seeking a possible site for a pulp mill.

Total population in the vicinity is estimated at 150 families plus some 300 men in logging camps.

The present road-rail route is a long and rough journey. There is a steamer service, but it is only once every eight days. As a result, many people in the area are looking to air transport as the quickest and most comfortable means of reaching outside centres.

Westinghouse Airways currently serves Port Renfrew, only an hour's flying time from the company's base at Esquimalt.

British Officer Killed In Malaya

SINGAPORE (Reuter) — Malaya terrorists Sunday killed a British officer of a Gurkha regiment in a clash at Bidor, 40 miles south of Ipoh.

It was the first British casualty in operations against the terrorists and the second army casualty. A Gurkha lance-corporal was killed at Kajang, Selangor, Saturday.

Near Kampu, 20 miles from Bidor, police Saturday killed two terrorists, wounded four and captured seven in a dawn raid against a group about 30 strong.

2 Bandits Thought Trapped In Bush

TILLSONBURG, Ont. (CP) — Two bandits were believed trapped in the bush several miles east of this Oxford County town today after they had fired shots at one moving automobile and attempted to hold up an undetermined number of motorists late Sunday night.

Provincial police said about 10 police cars searched throughout the night for the bandits.

The pair are believed to have broken into a hardware store here earlier Sunday night and taken guns and several hundred rounds of ammunition.

4 Hurt In Crash Near Pt. Townsend

PORT TOWNSEND (AP) — Four men, flying boat to Seattle from a fishing trip to Neah Bay, were injured Sunday when their plane crashed in a forced landing at Ludlow Bay, 20 miles south of here.

Three of the injured fishermen were from Seattle—Kenneth R. Palmer, 26, the pilot; Arthur N. Walker, 29, and Sam Crooks, 39. Each suffered multiple cuts and bruises. The fourth, Don McPherson, 26, Silto, suffered a compound leg fracture.

The plane sank quickly after nearby boats had picked up the men.

International U.N. Force Expected To Be Recruited Soon

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — The United Nations is expected to begin recruiting an international police force for Jerusalem within a few days.

Informed quarters said one of the first acts of Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations' Palestine mediator, on his arrival at Rhodes today would be to take up this question with United Nations officials.

Bernadotte discussed his plans with United States, French and Belgian delegates last week before leaving for his Middle East headquarters. He indicated he wanted 250 armed guards right away to help police the Holy City. Eventually he wants 1,000 to 1,500.

The United States and France already have agreed in principle to permit the United Nations to recruit 335 volunteers from among their citizens.

The United States, France and Belgium already have been asked formally to provide 300 military observers to aid in supervising the truce. Bernadotte said in Rome Sunday night he would concentrate on setting up the observation machinery before beginning any mediation efforts.

During the recent truce he had 93 military observers, 31 from each of the three countries which make up the Palestine consular truce commission. Now he wants 125 each from the United States and France and 50 from Belgium.

Say Plane With 18 Men Aboard Held

SANTA MARIA, Azores (AP) — A mysterious Flying Fortress carrying 18 Americans and presumably headed for Palestine landed here Sunday and was promptly detained by Portuguese authorities.

The airplane, ordered back to the United States from Canada, had filed a flight plan to Boston before taking off from Halifax.

(When the plane left Halifax there were nine men aboard. There was no immediate explanation for the Santa Maria report that there were 18 Americans aboard when the plane landed there.)

One of the Americans aboard has no passport, Portuguese officials said they detained the plane under an international rule concerning undocumented craft. (See story "Nine Men Aboard," page 7.)

Congress Criticized By C.I.O. Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Congress of Industrial Organizations today published a "voting guide" on the current United States Congress, urging heavy balloting in the November presidential election to elect a set of lawmakers "responsive to the needs of the people."

The C.I.O., claiming more than 6,000,000 members, summed up a bitter denunciation of Congress' record with almost the same words used by President Truman recently: "(It is) the record of one of the worst organizations in this nation's history."

2 Drown Near Seattle

High Czech Army Commander Escapes

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Times said today in a front-page story that Gen. Antonin Bohumil Hasal, deputy-chief-of-staff of the Czechoslovak Army, commander of the Czech Forces in the west and military aide to the President, has escaped to the United States Zone of Germany with his family.

Gen. Hasal's defection, the Times adds, is considered of major military importance since he was in the top hierarchy in the Czechoslovak military structure and is in a position to know many details of great interest to U.S. intelligence officers.

Probe Lake Mishap

THREE RIVERS, Que. Passengers were transferred safely to the steamer Laverendrye and returned to Three Rivers at 3.30 a.m. Sunday. The Lavolette is still aground.

In the past, printing of larger denomination notes has always stimulated further devaluation. Heretofore, the largest bank notes were 100,000 yuan, and they were getting hard to find. The new issue includes notes of 200,000, 500,000, 1,000,000 and 5,000,000 yuan (Chinese dollars).

2 In Seattle State They Joined Communist Group

SEATTLE (AP)—A former United States army intelligence officer and a University of Washington faculty member told the Washington Legislature's un-American Activities Committee today of attending Communist Party meetings with several faculty members.

In response to questions as to whether more than half-dozen educators and their wives were party members, they replied, "I so thought," and "I assumed so."

The witnesses were Mor Jewell of Seattle, operator of a detective school and former army intelligence officer, and Dr. Sophus K. Winther of the university's English department.

Rep. Albert F. Canwell of Spokane, committee leader, said the hearing follows a "four-month investigation in which hundreds of faculty members were interviewed."

"There will be professors named by witnesses as being members of the Communist Party," he said. It was emphasized, however, that "we are going to insist that those named shall have every opportunity to testify."

Both witnesses said they had been former members of the party. Jewell said he belonged in 1945 as an army operative in connection with possible war production interference.

He belonged to the "Rogers Club," which he said was the professional unit of the Communist political association. He said he joined to observe its operations and that his records were later stolen.

Floods Blamed For Gas Sale Decrease

Recent B.C. floods are believed responsible for a lessening of the rate of increase in May sales of gasoline over the rate of increase from the previous year.

This is reported by the Coal and Petroleum Control Board which announced 10,513,495 gallons of gasoline were sold in the month. This is 5.91 per cent higher than April, 1948, sales, and 3.72 per cent higher than May, 1947, sales.

There was a 10.5 per cent decrease for resellers in the province other than in Victoria and Vancouver districts.

In Victoria sales totaled 695,558 gallons which is 106,029 gallons more than the sales for May, 1947. In Vancouver, 3,531,812 gallons were sold compared with 3,209,363 in May last year. This is an increase of 322,449 gallons.

In the remainder of the province, sales reached 2,534,000 gallons compared with 2,700,594 in May of last year. This is a decrease of 266,076 gallons.

Wallace Wrestles

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—Presidential candidate Henry Wallace got into the spirit of a picnic rally Sunday and challenged a hefty young New Jersey congressional candidate of his new party to an old-fashioned Indian wrestling match. Thirty-eight-year-old Sidney Stolberg accepted the challenge, but was no match for the veteran Wallace. The 55-year-old third party head won four straight falls.

Coroner's Jury Tuesday To Probe Fatal Collision

Eldest of nine brothers, Edwin H. Clark, 42 years old, 1828 Adanac Street, was instantly killed and two other persons were injured in an automobile collision at 8 Saturday night on Sooke Road just west of the Colwood corner.

This was the seventh highway death in Victoria and district since the start of the year.

The injured were Ernest Fisher, also 1828 Adanac Street, and Thomas F. Parsons, about 55 years, R.R. 1, Albert Head. The doctor who is attending them at St. Joseph's Hospital said today he believes both are out of danger.

Most seriously hurt is Mr. Parsons. He has a fractured pelvis. The doctor said both were badly shocked and sustained cuts and bruises.

Both machines are classed as almost total losses.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, has fixed the inquest for 4 Tuesday afternoon at Sand's Mortuary.

Constable Jack Lockie, Gordon Wilson and Victor Bond and Sgt. J. G. M. Lock attended the scene for B.C. Police.

Summer Insects Worse Than Cold In Northern Wastes Of Canada

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (Reuter)—Summer insects hold greater terrors than winter blizzards for the men who roam the trails of the Yukon.

A man on the tramp in the Yukon during the summer months carries plenty of matches and netting with him. He "dopes" his skin with special preparations. If he stops for a meal or a rest, he builds a circle of "smudge" fires and sits in the middle.

There is many a tale of men frozen to death in the Yukon snows, but for sheer horror they cannot rival the stories told here of prospectors lost in the hills and unable to protect themselves from the swarms of mosquitoes and black flies and nine or 10 deer fly types. It was stated the pests appear in round-the-clock shifts.

Most fertile breeding grounds are said to be in the Barren Lands, where spraying methods are described as ineffective because new hordes of insects move in as soon as an area is cleared.

One project envisages spraying snow with insecticide, designed to kill insects when the thaw comes. The research teams also are conducting experiments to see whether it is possible to create artificial immunity to insect poisons in human beings. Members of parties, many of them students or faculty members of Canadian universities, will be inured with various preparations and will expose themselves to insect bites.

Types identified

Last year, a check at Fort Churchill identified 10 biting types and various non-biting types of mosquitoes, 12 species of black flies and nine or 10 deer fly types. It was stated the pests appear in round-the-clock shifts.

Red Tape Holds Back Britain's Trade, Says H.B. Co. Head

LONDON (CP)—Sir Patrick Ashley Cooper, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, today said government red tape is interfering with Britain's overseas trade.

"The inflexible bureaucratic machine, with its myriad of regulations and controls, imposes a severe delay in the execution of business with overseas clients," he said in a report of the company's business for the year ended Jan. 31.

"It is often impossible for United Kingdom traders to take full advantage of fluctuations in price and demand in world markets," he complained.

A company spokesman said at a press conference that there is an import-export scheme operative which requires a "certificate" for the fur dealer. Under the certificate he could apply for an import license, but issuance took a minimum of six weeks.

The fur trade was seasonal in nature and an importer might wish to make a snap purchase at a suitable price. But by the time six weeks had passed the price might have increased 20 per cent.

ENERGY NEEDED

Sir Patrick said the economic situation requires the United Kingdom to "tackle the task of increasing our shipments to Canada with even greater energy than before."

Canadian government restrictions narrowed the field for British exports in some directions, but created great opportunities in many others "where even to-day United Kingdom manufacturers as a whole are unable to fulfill the quotas allotted to them."

"Although the supply of American manufactured goods has been severely restricted under the quota system, the ultimate success will be achieved only when British manufacturers are able to offer Canadian consumers immediate delivery of the right product at competitive prices."

MR. BRACKEN TO RETIRE

HIS LEGION OF FRIENDS THROUGHout Canada, regardless of whether or not they agree with his adopted political philosophy, will regret that Mr. John Bracken, leader of the National Progressive Conservative Party of Canada, has announced his intention to retire from that important and responsible position. Although he is only 65 years of age, and until recently apparently enjoying good health, his medical advisor has warned him that he has reached a stage which demands
a considerable slowing up of his activities.
Canadians in every walk of life will hope that by carefully following his doctor's orders he will soon be restored to that vigorous condition—mentally and physically—which those who have had the privilege of knowing him personally have associated with this son of the West.

Even Mr. Bracken's closest political friends will be saying today, as they contemplate the intention of their leader to resign, that he was trying to do one of the most difficult jobs ever bequeathed to a Canadian politician. We say this because the man who decided to exchange the Premiership of the great province of Manitoba for the leadership of the National Progressive Conservative Party knew that he was embarking upon a crusade the fundamental objective of which was diametrically in conflict with the philosophy in which he was brought up and to which he had devoted the most active part of his public life as the head of a Coalition government in Manitoba. This is not to say that from the morrow of that day in December, 1942, when he permitted himself to be persuaded to accept a task beset with enormous difficulties he did not apply himself to the discharge of the obligations he had assumed with a stout heart and a buoyant belief in eventual triumph.

It is not for us to discuss the wisdom or otherwise of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and other stalwarts of the Conservative Party whose persuasive influence was responsible for Mr. Bracken's acceptance of the office he is now relinquishing. We know, of course, and every other political observer knows, that the former Premier of Manitoba was expected to deliver the western vote for his party. His insistence that the word Progressive should be added to the official name of the Tory party was considered at the time a good move. But Mr. Bracken did not deliver the goods. It was not his personal fault. Rather must it be recognized that the people of Canada, particularly that element which has now reached voting age, cannot be persuaded that the federal Conservative Party—even with the prefix Progressive—espouses a doctrine which conforms to the needs or aspirations of this day and generation.

TEST FOR THE C.C.F.?

FOR QUITE A LONG TIME THE PROVince of Alberta has been governed by what is known as a Social Credit administration. In recent years this political nomenclature has meant little. By virtue of the fact that in the last two general elections the party in office has won impressive victories at the polls it stands to reason that the public generally is satisfied with the manner in which its affairs have been conducted.

It is not for us to embark upon a dis-quisition as to what Premier Manning thinks about Social Credit as a political philosophy. All he has to concern himself about as he begins his campaign in the general elections which will end in the polling booths August 17 is to convince the electorate that he has looked after its interests to the best of his ability, and that although the Aberhart promise of $25
a month has not materialized, the balance sheet of achievement stands up as well as that of any other province governed by parties whose labels are clear for all to read and understand.

It is too early, of course, to speculate on the type of opposition with which Mr.
Manning will be confronted. But it is evident that the C.C.F. Party intends to make a spirited bid for the right to be considered the official opposition in the new Legislature. Fifty-seven seats will comprise the next house—as against 60 in the general election of April, 1945, the three being dropped representing the Armed Services—and already 46 Socialist candidates are preparing for the battle of the hustings. There is no indication so far as to whether the Liberal Party or the Progressive-Conservative Party intends to enter the campaign under their individual labels, or whether they will pool their resources and present candidates to carry the Independent banner.

Although the government party held 51 seats in a Legislature of 60 members at the time of dissolution last week, the fact that national C.C.F. leader, Coldwell has announced his intention of taking an active part in the campaign indicates the Socialists obviously will figuratively move heaven and earth to make a better showing than they did in the contest a trifle more than three years ago—when they elected no more than two members.

In other words, and in view of the serious rebuff which the Douglas administration in Saskatchewan sustained last month, Canada's third party assuredly will be on the spot when the Alberta electors make up their minds about their next government on August 17.

NO TRAGEDY, NO HEADLINES

HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE SUCCESS
with which the work was carried out,
the activities of sanitation squads which moved into flood areas of British Columbia would have claimed larger headlines. A typhoid epidemic—and one might have been expected in view of the disruption of sewer and water systems—would have claimed wide publicity. No such outbreak occurred. In consequence the operations of the Provincial Health Department teams gain small notice.

It is important, however, to draw specific attention to this feature of British Columbia's timely and efficient attack on a problem which is usually associated with such disasters. It is not merely good fortune which saved residents of the formerly inundated areas from the disease scourge that so frequently follows floods. Skilled sanitation groups left little to chance. Because they were efficient, a proper assessment of news values has denied them the big type on the front page. Their work is nevertheless sincerely appreciated.

A MAJOR FACTOR IN COMMUNISM'S
opportunistic policy is the quick seizing of more or less accidental events for use as propaganda or as the occasion for active demonstrations and unrest. An example was the recent shooting of Palmiro Togli-atti, the Italian Communist leader, which partisans lost no time in utilizing as the basis for a general strike and mob riots.
It is conceivable that the Red organizers would, if possible, have extended the demonstrations into a full-scale rebellion leading to a seizure of political power. Premier Aldice de Gasperi's active steps in quelling the disturbances showed strength where it was needed, and the strikes ran into internal opposition even before their scheduled completion, leaving the democratic government still in control.

The isolated act of the Italian who fired three shots into Togliatti, apparently without reference to any political party, but with a simple anti-Communist motive, was unfortunate. Such a resort to force, and the consequent possibility of creating Red martyrs, is "right down the alley" of that party whose whole philosophy is based on violence as a political weapon. By it the Leftists were given an excuse to cry oppression and seek retaliation, although it was obvious from the start that the government had had no hand in the incident. Premier de Gasperi and his leaders were fully cognizant of the repercussions to be expected from the shooting. Their every concern was to save Togliatti and thereby prevent insurrection.

The occurrence has shown among other things that the country which has permitted
a large Communist group to grow up within its boundaries is sitting on a powder-keg.
Any incident under such circumstances can touch off political and economic disturbances that will endanger the state and hamper its peaceful progress. And if "incidents" are slow in presenting themselves, the Reds are fully capable of providing them as required. Hitler's famous purge of the Communists, based on the burning of the Reichstag—a silly deed of which he accused the Leftists but which his own men had perpetrated—provided an object lesson which the followers of the Kremlin have never forgotten. It was a tactic which they used on frequent occasions and with considerable success.

THAT 'EXTRA CENT'

MOST OF THE JULY COMMENT ON British Columbia's new sales tax to date has been destructive. The tax is a nuisance, and few have been reticent in saying so.
It is important, however, to look at the other side of the picture disclosed in a statement by Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Health and Welfare. His announcement is as significant as it is brief—because of extra money which the sales tax will bring in,
mothers' allowances and social assistance
cheques will be increased approximately 15 per cent this month. This means that approximately 3,000 mothers and between 10,000 and 12,000 persons entitled to social assistance will receive larger amounts. It is important to remember this when the saleswoman adds the sentence, "There will be an extra cent for tax," to her remarks on the price of a minor purchase.

WHY WALK?

RECORD TIME FOR THE 220-YARD
swim is close to two minutes. We mention this because Joe Simms, a 51-year-old railroad worker last week "walked" across the Thames, at a point where it was about 220 yards wide, in 17 minutes. During the "walk" his body remained submerged to the neck, upright in the deep water, and locomotion was accomplished by a "slow cycle action" of the legs. But what was Joe Simms trying to do? Had he been only an indifferent swimmer he could have covered the distance in four or five minutes. And what is the point in walking in the water?

No man succeeds without education. A successful guide may be unable to read, but he is educated in the lore of the woods and outdoor living.

School Millennium

By EDWARD HODGKIN From London

THERE WAS ONCE a centenarian who was asked by a reporter to what he attributed his great age. His answer was,
"I attribute it to the fact that I happened to be born 100 years ago." This may be as good an answer as any, since both men and institutions need luck as well as vitality to keep them going, but when you reach the age of a thousand, you can honestly boast that it is your vitality and not your luck which has kept you going.

ST. ALBANS SCHOOL was born in A.D.
948 in the small Hertfordshire town which the Romans called Verulamium and whose name was changed in honor of the first Christian martyr to be killed in Britain. The school came into being as part of the abbey, which still stands, 20 miles north of London. They have grown old together, but both are still as much an essential part of the life of England as they were in the very distant days of their origin.
Today the school is one of the "public schools" of England, with 400 boys attending it, some of whom are boarders and some day boys. (Public schools, in spite of their name, are private institutions as far as their administration goes, although the Ministry of Education helps an increasing number of them with financial grants.) St.
Albans has had its up and downs like any other school, but the year of its millennium certainly finds it in one of the ups.

WHAT AN ASTONISHING variety of changes there have been in the systems of education in Britain during these thousand years! I could not help being struck by this mixture of continuity and change
while I was reading about another school which has also been celebrating an anniversary. This second school was founded at Kingswood, near Bath, England, 200 years ago—on June 24, 1748, to be exact—
by one of the greatest figures of the 18th century, John Wesley. On that day he wrote in his journal, "The day we had appointed for opening the school at Kings-wood. I preached there on 'Train up a child in the way that he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.'
My brother and I administered the Lords' Supper to many who came from far. We then agreed on the general rules of the school."

IT IS WHEN YOU look at "the general rules of the school" that you can see the change in outlook there has been during the past two centuries. At Kingswood the children rose at 4 in the morning, and read, sang or meditated till 5, when there was a service. From 6 o'clock till breakfast was work. "For," as Wesley wrote,
"as we have no play days so neither do we allow any time for play in any day. She that plays when she is a child will play when she is a woman." Wesley, it must be remembered, was one of the kindest of men, and I dare say that in practice the curriculum was not so harsh as it sounds to us now. At any rate the children were well looked after, and the great curse of many schools at about that time was that the children in them were more or less allowed to run wild.

AS LATE AS THE beginning of the last century, for example, the scholars of Eton were shut up by themselves for 12 hours of the 24, with only the most nominal supervision. Extraordinary though it may sound, the one huge room in which the 50 scholars slept was only properly inspected once a year, in the middle of the summer term. In preparation for this occasion, two or three heavy boys used to sit on one end of a blanket, and several others would seize the other end and run up and down the room dragging the blanket after them. In this fashion the floor was cleaned and polished.

IT WAS AS A reaction to this sort of chaos that the severe simplicity of schools such as that which Wesley founded was introduced. By now, of course, extremes of either sort have been long ago abolished. Kingswood and Eton, like St.
Albans and more than 200 other schools
up and down the country, come in the category of public schools. Boys in all these schools are prepared for the same standard of examinations and no boy who changed from one school to another would feel himself a fish out of water. Since the end of the war Eton and the other more expensive public schools, have begun to take boys from state primary schools, and this levelling-up process, which will undoubtedly be carried further in the near future, is proving a great success. It is generally accepted that the good things which the old school have to offer—their traditions, buildings, and high teaching standards—
should be made as widely available as possible for the benefit of all classes.

WHILE WE ARE on the subject of centenaries, there is one more which calls for mention. The date this time is June 29, 1848, and the place Canterbury.
On that day a college was founded for training clergy of the Church of England to serve "in the distant dependencies of the Empire." The site chosen for the college was on the ruins of the abbey of St.
Augustine, which had been shut down by King Henry VIII, and which had for many centuries been the neighbor and rival of the great cathedral there which is still the mother church of the Anglican community.
In the hundred years of its life more than 700 men have gone overseas, and many famous names are to be found among them.

Gad, What Tremendous Enthusiasm

Tito's Real Sin

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

THERE HAVE BEEN some amusing as well as puzzling
aspects to the Tito-Cominform fight since the first big blow-off.
Communist parties in the other puppet states have been following the Moscow line and dutifully throwing bricks through Tito's windows. Tito's Communists have been bravely throwing them back—but always careful not to aim them in Moscow's direction.

It has been something like a fight among the kids of one family, with all contestants
keeping a wary eye on mother for fear she'll move in and whale
the whole bunch of them.

Behind all the window dressing, however, the fundamental problem has not been solved. And that problem, according to Bogdan Raditsa, is Tito's failure to communicate Yugoslavia. Since he formerly was Tito's information director, Mr. Raditsa knows the situation. Probably no writer in this country who can speak freely and honestly knows it any better.

LOGICAL VIEW

But it is not necessary to agree with him without thinking.
Even when one discounts the great distance that makes all

Yugoslavia's farms are ill-equipped and her farmers are stubbornly unco-operative. And if reports out of Russia are true, the Soviets don't have enough of anything but land and labor themselves. They can't give their backward satellites like Yugoslavia the help that they need, and they won't let puppet dictators look elsewhere for help.

FREE TRANSLATION

It seems small wonder then,
that Tito was giving the Kremlin gospel a rather free translation in his effort to put his country on her feet. His vain and pompous way of going about it may have irritated the Kremlin almost as much as his boldness. But the Soviet leaders seem to have little cause to doubt that Tito still professes their own ruthless, tyrannical faith.

His methods must be galling things. For, by departing from their instructions, he has suggested that they don't have the infallible answers. It looks as if the real failure can be blamed on Soviet planning, not Tito's disobedience. And it isn't likely that any Marxist scoldings or trials and purges can remove that appearance.

Government Should Permeate

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE OTHER DAY we chanced on a phrase about government that seemed to represent a high measure of understanding and wisdom. It was executive wisdom that is much more difficult to come by than the more abstract wisdom of the schools.
It came not from an intellectual but from one who has come to understanding the hard way; an Irish boy who came to America
by steerage, who by turns ran a pushcart, carried a hod, was a coalpasser on a river steambot,
a bartender, policeman and is now mayor of what is reputedly
the largest city in the world.

He came to realize, this boy grown man, that people, like pomp and show and, in a measure, they even like being pushed around. It gives them a sense of security, of being looked after. "But it's bad
for them," says Mayor O'Dwyer of New York. And so the phrase:
"Government should permeate, it shouldn't crush."

Looking Yourself Up

The Times of London

EVEN IN US there reside the vestiges of vanity. From the rest of the world they are concealed, effectually and forever; we do not betray ourselves in public. But leave us alone with a work of reference in which our name appears and you may be "perfectly certain that we shall look ourselves up."
It makes no difference what the work of reference is—it may be Who's Who, it may be an old army list, it may only be the roll of membership of some obscure association to which we belong.
The particulars about us recorded in it are generally confined to our name and address;

Letter To The Editor

EXTEND THANKS

We wish to acknowledge through the Times our appreciation to the Red Cross for their kindness, to us when we were burned out on June 19, and especially to Miss Downing, who was so very kind and considerate.
MR. AND MRS. GEORGE A.
McNUTT AND FAMILY.
816 Hutchinson St., Esquimalt.

Yet there we go, furtively turning up the bald, familiar entry, making straight for the one item among hundreds or perhaps thousands which cannot conceivably tell us anything we did not know already. The impulse to do so is inexplicable; a poorer, pawkier form of Narcissism was never invented.

Why we go in for it nobody knows; we do it more as a duty
than a pleasure, we get no kick out of it, it brings out in us neither courage nor bravado.
The only thing to be said in its favor is that it is—as methods of gratifying vanity go—comparatively inexpensive.

Associated Press News Analysis

THE INTENSITY of the battle between democracy and communism, in such important theatres as Germany and Italy, has largely obscured a recent highly important change in Moscow's strategy for conduct of world revolution.

Communist parties of all countries have been notified that henceforth they are to have the Russian party as a model to be emulated exactly.

This means that all Communists must think alike. It means that the Communist parties of Britain and the United States and where you will no longer can adapt their policies to local conditions.

Announcement of this startling change of policy was made several weeks ago in the newspaper published in Belgrade by the international Communist agency, known as the Comin-form.

CHANGE IN POLICY

The Cominform announcement of policy has been republished
by the Sunday Worker, week-end edition of the New York Communist organ, the Daily Worker.
The Cominform said among other things that Communist parties can't realize their "cardinal social-economic and political task" without "strengthening the political work of the parties," "consolidating them organizationally and ideologically," and "maintaining close bonds with the masses."

This development of course signals an intensification of the world revolution for the establishment of communism.

So Moscow is putting the screws on. This foreshadows purging of every Communist party in the world.

We have a concrete example of what this means in the news from Czechoslovakia that the famous cultural and physical training organization known as the Sokol is to be purged because of what the Communists regard as a reactionary political demonstration during the recent international meeting in Prague.

Some members of the Sokol
in a big parade cheered for former President Benes but marched past his Communist successor, Klement Gottwald, in silence.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

Ottawa Journal
Arab countries say they will withdraw from the Olympic games in London if the flag of Israel is flown at the stadium.
Just more evidence of the fine spirit of peace and amity which the Olympic games invariably develop!

FINE ARTS

Ottawa Citizen
McGill University's decision to establish a four-year course for the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts, signals an encouraging intellectual and artistic growth in Canada. Requests for such academic distinction have come in from many places and enrolment is expected to be large.

With one of Canada's great universities offering degrees in the fine arts, the nation's intellectual life will undoubtedly be enriched.

DISCUSSING AN ISSUE

Winnipeg Free Press
When Mr. Molotov announced a few weeks ago that Russia was eager to discuss a world settlement, the United States replied that it was no longer interested in abstractions of that sort. If Russia wished to face specific problems then the United States would be glad to negotiate, but not otherwise. The next move was left to Russia.

Russia has made that move on a relatively minor sector of the peace problem by agreeing to consider the future of the Danube.
For the first time in months,
therefore, Russia and the western powers will come into actual contact and perhaps achieve an agreement on a specific issue.

EXCUSABLE

Toronto Globe and Mail
The consumer may well be excused for asking why, among all the progressive and democratic Canada alone should insist upon excluding a butter substitute of which science approves. That the government should continue to deny the consumer the right to buy a butter substitute, when a famine is in the offing, is hard to understand. But the very thought that it might brazen out an ill-considered policy to save its face and continue the ban on margarine
while it subsidizes the dairy man is beyond all belief. Let butter prices go where they will by natural processes and permit the consumer to buy a cheaper alternative at discretion.

However, said Mr. Mayhew, Mr. Claxton had assured him that he was interested in seeing a squadron established here and that if enough ground crew men could be found there was no reason why such a squadron could not be established.

Squadron organizational committee officials here say they now have a list of over 100 men willing to join and that these men are almost equally divided between air crew and ground crew, including aero engine mechanics, electricians and air frame mechanics.

May Get Squadron If Enough Ground Crew Found Here

If sufficient ground crew can be found, Victoria's proposed Auxiliary Air Force Squadron will very probably become a reality, R. W. Mayhew, Minister of Fisheries and M.P. for Victoria, said today.

The minister said that Defence Minister Brooke Claxton had asked for a report following appeals made from here for formation of an auxiliary squadron, and it was discovered there were enough pilots but not enough ground crew men for establish-

Communists Begin General Offensive In Northwest China

NANKING (AP) — Chinese Communists dealt heavy blows to the government to central and northwest China today, leading neutral observers to believe they had at last abandoned hit-skip raids and begun a general offensive.

The Shansi province capital of Taiyuan in the northwest was surrounded and under close attack; the Han River town of Siangyang, 400 miles south, was reported to have fallen, and the government's main central base of Suchow was closely threatened.

The independent and often highly accurate Chen Li (Truth) News Agency, reported Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was personally directing the defence by radio and telephone from a special war room in Nanking. It compared his activities with the days of the Japanese invasion.

The same agency said reinforcements had arrived in Taiyuan by air but gave no details.

Other private reports said Taiyuan's south airfield had been captured by the Communists Saturday night. It is but seven miles from the walls of the encircled city.

(The Communists broadcast on Saturday that they had "annihilated" 10 divisions — possibly 200,000 men — around Taiyuan in the last month. On Sunday they broadcast that they had captured Sukow, 20 miles to the southeast, and "several strong points" 20 miles north of Taiyuan.)

New Brunswick Premier To Fight Freight Increase

FREDERICTON (CP) — The wage increase won last week by railway employees has not changed the freight-rate issue for the maritimes in any respect, Premier McNair said Saturday before leaving for Ottawa to join six other premiers in protesting the federal government's freight rate policy.

He said New Brunswick would not retreat its stand against the horizontal aspect of the general 21 per cent increase granted the railways and against figures used to demonstrate the railways' requirements for revenue.

If some solution were not found the situation would be "ruinous" for the maritimes and western Canada, Premier McNair said. Possibility of another increase arising from the wage boost had made the prospects even more serious, he added.

Port Renfrew Boys Land 33-Lb. Salmon

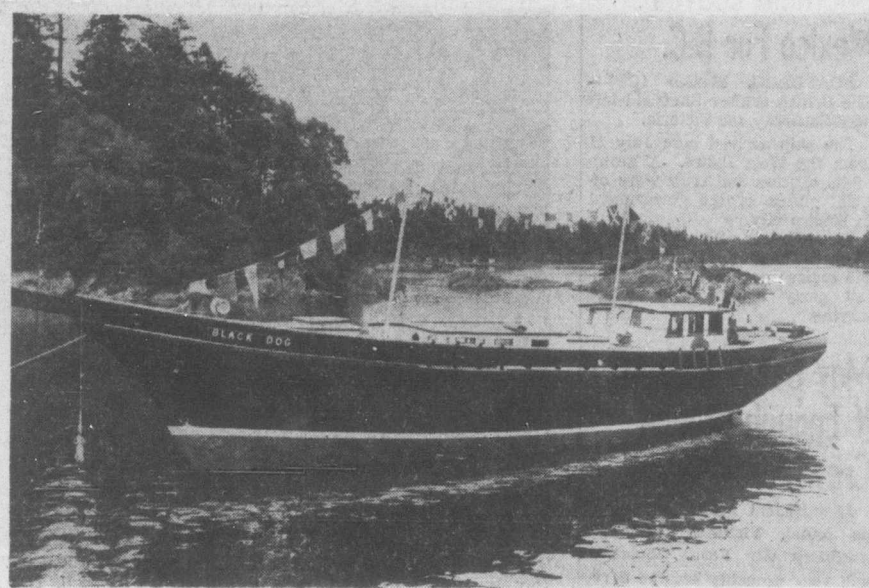

Crew of a Westinghouse Airways plane report an interesting fish story from the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Two youths, Ron Gammie and "Tuffy" Joynton, were fishing from a canoe at Port Renfrew when they hooked a 33-pound spring salmon.

After being towed along for a time, they succeeded in landing the fighting fish, but were unable to kill it once it was in the canoe, having no club.

A sudden flip by the salmon and all three—the fish and the two lads—were in the water. The tug Alan S rescued the boys and the fish—for one of the young anglers had hung onto the line during his ducking.

55-Foot Schooner Slides Down Ways

The 55-foot Black Dog of William Tellers, former naval lieutenant-commander, was launched at Canoe Cove Saturday. The vessel will be powered by a 100-horsepower engine and will carry 1,750 square feet of working sail.

Miss Gertrude Seilly of Vancouver breaks the traditional bottle of champagne over the bow of the vessel. Mr. Tellier, assisted by Cyril Rodd, designed the ship.

Hope Six Months Will Show New Gains In Britain's Exports

By CANADIAN PRESS

Reports from Britain on her battle to raise production and exports and at the same time keep down her prices at home are real-life drama on a national scale — one that is international in its effect, for Britain's recovery remains the key to the restoration of the trading world.

There is occasional criticism that Britain's prices are too high, but so far she has been able in the main to sell what she can produce. One difficulty is that items hard to sell at home, especially non-essential goods, are also hard to sell abroad; and goods needed at home are the ones in demand abroad.

Accordingly Britain is trying to switch from non-essential lines and keep her production flexible so that it may vary as demand varies. She has made less progress than she had hoped for, but the next six months may give a truer picture of what success she is attaining.

In the battle against inflation and towards a sound trading position, she has done rather better than most European countries.

In 1947, for instance, she imported one-quarter less than in 1938, while Europe as a whole imported 7 per cent more; and she exported 8 per cent more while Europe as a whole was exporting 22 per cent less.

Sir Stafford Cripps explains that Britain's prospects of expanding sales of consumer goods to dollar areas are closely tied up with the home level of prices, and accordingly he is pleased to see some signs that home costs are dropping.

MARKETS SATURDAY

Wheat slumped in Chicago Saturday with July touching a low since March. Coarse grains had an easier tone in Winnipeg in response to more favorable crop prospects. Security markets were closed.

Supplies In Some Lines Reported Above Demand Now In Britain

LONDON (CP) — Britain's great postwar buying spree seems to have come to an end. Supplies in several lines are accumulating as consumers grow more careful in their spending.

Already some manufacturers whose sales have been affected are claiming a trend has begun toward deflation—a state where there are too many goods and not enough money to buy them. This view is not held generally, although even Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, says the price rise has been checked and there are signs of a downward tendency in some lines.

POLICY SUCCEEDING

He told the House of Commons recently it was a sure sign of the success of the government's counter-inflation policy when the demand for some types of goods fell off, particularly when they were essential goods.

"As inflation diminishes, shortages become more selective and actual surpluses are thrown up in the field of luxury and less necessary goods," he said. This gives the more vital industries a chance to get more labor and materials and so increase their production."

Britons, used to shortages, were almost stunned last May by the announcement that surpluses had developed in some lines of clothing. The government increased the allowance of clothing.

More recently, restrictions on the sale of some types of furniture were lifted.

Sir Stafford himself said at a press conference there had been an appreciable falling off in the home demand for electric clocks, radio sets, domestic electrical appliances, carpet sweepers and certain kinds of leather goods.

Real estate merchants report a downward trend in property values and the "no beer" signs have been taken down in public houses.

More cautious buying by the consumer is due in part to taxes Sir Stafford imposed in his April budget for just that purpose, to the disappearance of wartime savings and gratuities and the fact that production is at last catching up with demand.

Russians Face New Resistance In Germany; May Bar Elections

BERLIN AP)—There is public evidence of a growing revolt against Communism in Russian-occupied Germany—a revolt so serious the Russians may not permit scheduled elections this autumn.

The revolt is most serious on a local level. That is why the Russians apparently are planning to postpone the Gemeinde (township or community) elections to spare the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity Party (S.E.D.) from taking a beating.

The official Soviet newspaper, Tagliche Rundschau, has disclosed for the first time officially that the Russians are planning to put off the elections. It said the newly-licensed Peasant Party had petitioned Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian military governor, to delay the elections.

Allied and German observers predicted Sokolovsky soon would agree to the request.

If so, it will be the first time any occupying power refused to let the Germans express their choice at the polls.

The new democratic Peasant Party appealed for an election postponement to give it "more time to organize."

The Communist-born workers' councils in the state of Thuringia already have been announcing that local elections will be postponed "because we have more important things to do."

NOW MERELY STOOGES

The liberal Democrats and the conservative Christian Democrats are the two bourgeois parties still tolerated in the Soviet zone.

They have been reduced to what an official British statement described as "stooge" parties, but even they now are publicly revolting against the Communist tactics of Sovietizing eastern Germany.

"It is not a revolt against the Soviet occupation power," a Christian Democrat paper said, "but a revolt against those German voluntary agents of the Russians who are trying to out-Soviet the Soviets."

9 Men Aboard Old B-17 Fly To Azores From Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (CP)—Nine American civilians flying a ramshackle B-17 appeared today to have left United States custom authorities holding the bag, temporarily at least. Ordered to return to their starting point, Westchester County Field, N.Y., the nine hightailed it for the Azores from Halifax Saturday and landed there Sunday after an 11-hour 1,500-mile flight. Pilot Irwin R. Schindler of Miami, Fla., left a flight plan with the R.C.A.F. before the take-off that said he was headed for Boston.

TURNED OUT LIGHTS

Once he was airborne, Schindler doused all lights on the converted Flying Fortress and pointed her nose east.

Short of gas, the plane had to fly at reduced speed to make it. One engine cowling was gone and the aircraft carried no radio transmitter. There were only two parachutes aboard.

The R.C.A.F. here said it was, by modern standards, a brilliant piece of flying.

The men were believed headed for Palestine to join the Israeli air force.

TO JOIN HAGANA

Talking with a Canadian Press reporter last Wednesday, Herman Marek, one of the passengers, said: "If ever we get off we'll go right across. All we're waiting for is to get out of here."

To a question "nobody has any doubt about where you are going?" Marek replied: "I guess you're right."

While none admitted openly to flying to join the Hagana forces, they left no doubt in the minds of persons at the airport as to their plans.

They also showed the reporter two extra gasoline tanks they had concealed in the bomb bay "on condition nothing is said about this until we get off."

(At Washington, Edson J. Shamhart, deputy commissioner of the U.S. customs bureau, said "it remains to be seen" what may be done next.)

(The Azores are Portuguese territory and Shamhart conceded: "It is out of our jurisdiction.")

The nine men were detained by Canadian custom authorities last Monday after their plane had been forced down at the nearby Eastern Passage base by bad weather.

They were finally cleared Thursday after being fined $100 for illegal entry into Canada and ordered to return to Westchester.

A U.S. Coast Guard plane that had been scheduled to escort the Fortress back to Westchester flew home alone.

Romania To Take Over Church Schools

BUCHAREST Reuter—Roman Catholic schools in Romania will soon be taken over by the state, following denunciation Saturday by the government of the concordat with the Vatican concluded in 1929.

The decision to denounce the concordat, an agreement between the church and state defining the powers of the church and civil authorities in matters where both are concerned, was taken "to fulfill the constitutional provisions of complete freedom of religions."

The new Romanian constitution, adopted after the abdication of King Michael, provides that all church schools shall be taken over by the civil authorities.

It is not yet known whether the Catholic hospitals will also come under civil control.

Traveler Says Many Try To Leave U.K. To Avoid High Taxes

Many wealthy people exasperated by high taxes in Great Britain were moving to taxless Bermuda, Douglas Worthington, globe-trotting Victorian, said on his return home Saturday after a 12-month jaunt in Europe and the Orient.

Immigration officers were jammed by people trying to get to the Dominions and foreign countries, he said. They were fed up with Labor government restrictions and the monotonous diet.

With regard to the orient, Mr. Worthington said Communists were making use of the anti-white feeling in China which was planted by the Japanese during the war.

Lawlessness, violence and fear reigned in Shanghai he said, and it was common talk that you could have anybody killed for a dollar. He related that two Norwegian seamen were stabbed to death while he was in Chinese city.

Reports C.P.R. Rail Traffic Increasing

Rail traffic throughout Canada is on the increase, H. F. Mathews, general manager of C.P.R. hotels, on a routine business trip to Victoria, said today. With the exception of two hulls during the Fraser River flood and the threatened railway strike rail traffic this year had been very good, he said.

The Banff summer resort was enjoying a good season, he added. There was about the same number of people at the resort as there was last year.

H.M.C.S. Naden Chapel Setting For Naval Wedding

Profusions of summer blossoms banked the altar at H.M.C.S. Naden Chapel Friday evening for the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Edyth Mary Rimmer and P.O. David Adam Young, R.C.N.

Rev. William Hills, St. George's Church, read the service for the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rimmer, 1774 Wilkinson Road, and groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Young, Harrison Hot Springs, B.C.

The couple are honeymooning at Cariboo Chalet, Decka Lake, B.C., and will spend the summer at Harrison Hot Springs, returning to Victoria in the early fall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a long-sleeved gown of oyster white slipper satin styled with inset net yoke outlined by an off-shoulder satin ruffle. Her full-length veil was held by a floral headpiece decorated with orange blossoms worn by her mother at her wedding. Her bouquet of deep red roses and white carnations was showered with stephanotis and she wore gifts of her groom, a pearl necklace and wrist watch.

Sole attendant for the bride, was her school friend, Miss Norma Phelps, Calgary. She wore orchid pink taffeta with floral headpiece to match and carried a pastel-toned bouquet.

CPO J. B. Rimmer, R.C.N., was best man for his sister's groom, and CPO R. Faulks, R.C.N., seated guests.

A family friend, Mrs. A. Smith played wedding music, and Mrs. Malanfont sang "Through the Years."

Friends gathered at Chief Petty Officers' dining hall, H.M.C.S. Naden, to extend best wishes to the couple.

Mrs. Rimmer and Mrs. Young received guests with the bridal pair, and toast was given by George Whalen.

Later P.O. and Mrs. Young left on their wedding trip, the bride wearing an apple green suit of gabardine with contrasting topcoat, brown accessories and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Ila Mae Waller Weds H. Saunders

Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday at 8, by Ila Mae Waller, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Waller, and Henry Stephen Saunders, Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Saunders, Duncan, V.I., at Victoria Gospel Hall, Huron Shepard, of Duncan, conducted the ceremony.

Point d'esprit lace added beauty to the taffeta wedding gown worn by the bride, given in marriage by her brother, F. M. Waller. A coronet of orange blossoms held her full net veil and she carried a sheath of Madonna lilies. Her groom's gift, a wrist watch, was her only ornament.

Miss Dorothy Hitchman, honor maid, was dressed in orchid waterfall taffeta. She wore a headpiece of marguerites and sweetpeas to match those in her shower bouquet.

Marguerite England, as flower girl, was frocked in turquoise taffeta. Her Colonial bouquet was of marguerites and sweetpeas, and she wore a halo of similar blossoms in her hair.

William Shatford came from Vancouver to attend the groom, and D. Jones, also of Vancouver, and S. Hitchman were ushers.

Later they left on their wedding trip to Washington and Oregon. The bride wore a burgundy gabardine suit with black accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders will make their home at Cordova Bay.

Edward Dana Wilgress Married In Geneva

NEW YORK (CP)—Barbara Gene Rogers and Edward Dana Wilgress, son of E. Dana Wilgress, Canadian Minister Switzerland, and Mrs. Wilgress, were married at Geneva, Friday. The New York Times says today in a Geneva dispatch.

Miss Rogers is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles S. Rogers of Mount Vernon, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilgress will live in Geneva, the dispatch says.

Another 'First'

SHANNON, Eire (Reuter) — The first woman ever to act as navigator on a commercial aircraft crossing the Atlantic arrived here today from New York aboard a Dutch airlines plane bound for Amsterdam.

She is blonde, 30-year-old Virginia Withington of New Haven, Conn.

Dressed in a neat slack suit and with her hair done in a masculine style, Miss Withington paid tribute to her male crew mates.

"I must say the men who make the flight regularly are iron men," she said. "I feel dead for want of sleep—even at that I am ashamed to say I snatched two hours on the way across."

Miss Withington, a certified navigator with her ticket from the United States navy, plans on taking out a ticket to become a regular.

At their Sidney home on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Nunn celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Many friends and relatives called to congratulate the happy couple and share in the large wedding cake, which centred a table covered with a gold lace cloth. Reception rooms were decorated with a profusion of yellow roses gathered from the rose garden at the Nunn home. Mrs. M. Nickells presided at the tea table and assisting Mr. and Mrs. Nunn in receiving their guests was their daughter, Mrs. B. E. Nickells, Mr. Nunn's sister, Mrs. H. J. Readings, Misses Pat Fleming, Perle Alarie and Shirley Readings acted as serviteurs.

Double Cotton Swabs Smooth Cake Make-up

Do you apply your make-up by the cotton-swabbing method?

If so, use two wads of cotton, one in each hand. See that each wad carries an equal amount of make-up to your face.

Putting on make-up by this two-handed method will give you a more uniform application than the one-handed method. It will, that is, if you'll begin application at a centre point of your face and work outward with your two hands. Try to keep the same amount of pressure on both hands.

Another tip on this technique—it's passed on by experts—is to first "unload" the face tint you are applying with two pads by beginning under your chin. This gets rid of the initial surplus color on an area of the face where it doesn't matter too much; where it can be wiped off later without marring the even effects that you want to achieve.

After swabbing the chin area, switch the position of your hands to the centre of your brow. Swab downward. If cotton pads need a replenished supply of make-up color before the face is finished, go lightly on the replenishment.

Repair Lingerie For Summer Show

Peep-show lingerie seen through sheer summer blouses needs attention, if lace is frayed, straps are worn or fabric is faded.

Tears in the lace yolks of slips can be mended to prolong the usefulness as well as eye-appeal of the garment. Sewing experts suggest using a net backing for repairs. Net reinforces fragile lace and gives you something to which to anchor darning or mending threads.

To attach the backing of net, sew to top and bottom edges of the lace strip. Then use tiny stitches to catch the lace to the net at those spots where threads in the lace pattern have broken. This prevents further tearing; allows your patchwork to escape notice.

If edges of lace have frayed, bind with satin ribbon in a color that matches your slip.

Replace broken or frayed straps with ready-made straps or corded shoulder-strap fashion. If a short piece of elastic is added to each end of the new strap—used to absorb the strain of shoulder movement—new straps will be less likely to break loose; will give more comfortable wear.

Finish the reconditioning of your slip by giving it a color-bath—lingerie tints are easy to use—to restore pastel freshness to fading fabric.

Saris Are Changed To Slacks And Jeans

Farming is the study of six girls from Ceylon, island off the tip of India, now a self-governing dominion. The girls are pictured (left) in saris, their national dress, at the Usk Agricultural Institute, England, and (above) in the more familiar workaday slacks and jeans. Every year thousands of students from the world-wide British dominions and colonies arrive in Britain. Their studies completed, they return to devote the knowledge gained to the future of their homelands.

Dorothy Dix

MARITAL VACATION

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a married man of 45, a college graduate, highly ambitious and sensitive, extremely nervous. My wife is a poorly educated woman, but she is the mother of unusually intelligent and beautiful children. She is of a strong moral character and a slave to the children. Has no social ambitions and has no conception of tidiness in the home, and her mismanagement of the children exasperates me beyond measure. The result is that we constantly heap abuse upon each other. We resurrect all of the family skeletons and rave and rant until we are wrecks. My wife has come to assume a martyr attitude and I am in a state of hopelessness. What do you suggest?

MISERABLE.

Answer: First, a temporary separation. Evidently you and your wife have gotten on each other's nerves until the irritation has become unbearable, and the only remedy for that situation is to part before the breach between you becomes too wide to bridge.

You have contemplated each other's faults so long, and at such close range, that you have lost all sight of the virtues that each of you possesses. After you are separated for a little while you will see each other in a different light and begin to realize that you made mountains out of molehills, and that if there were faults on both sides, both also had many fine traits of character.

SEND WIFE AWAY

So my advice is to send your wife away for a little while, at any cost and sacrifice. That will give time for the wounds that you have dealt each other to heal, and for your taut nerves to straighten out. It will give you time to think over your situation dispassionately. Perhaps when your wife is away from home she will get a new angle on it and see that a home is worth taking care of and making comfortable. And perhaps you will realize that even a badly kept home is better than no home at all.

And when your wife returns, make up your mind that there will be no more disgraceful scenes between you. That is simply a matter of will power. You can, and must, control your temper. Your wife may bore you, but remember you picked her out yourself, and if she has failed you as a companion, she has given you splendid children. Fill your life with their love, and for their sake make the sacrifice of getting along peaceably with their mother.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a man of 60, married to a very fine woman, but this is our problem: Several years ago I was in an accident and lost one arm. Due to this and my age I have not been able to get a good job in the city. I have saved a little money and would like to buy a place in the country where we could raise our own food and chickens and things to sell. I was brought up on a farm and I know how to do things.

But my wife objects to my plan. She says living on a farm is like going back to Grandma's day. Please help me.

JOHN D.

Answer: I think your plan is fine and the most feasible thing to do under the circumstances. It is paying the landlord and the food bills that take most of your money, and when you can raise your own chickens and butter and vegetables and eggs it doesn't take much to live on.

Most of the farmhouses now have electricity in them, and telephones and radios. There is usually a car in the garage and the isolation and the drudgery of farm life is a thing of the past. Tell your wife that the farm has changed since Grandma's day.

Dear Miss Dix: What do you think is the greatest thing in life?

Answer: Love. The love of man for woman. The love of husbands and wives. The love of parents and children. The love of friend for friend. Nothing else really matters if we have love.

Supersonic Tests Make Huge Demands On Power Output

BEDFORD (Reuter)—Britain's "city of scientists" near here is rapidly expanding.

A huge research station to centralize all British experiments in supersonic flight is being built.

It will cost £20,000,000 ($80,000,000), and will ultimately have a staff of 5,000, of whom about 1,400 will be scientists. Although some equipment will be ready for work within a few months, it is estimated the station will not be completed until 1952.

Two main items in the plan are a wind tunnel capable of operating at 1,500 miles an hour, twice the speed of sound, and a giant runway five miles long and 600 yards wide.

Ironically enough, this most up-to-date wind tunnel will incorporate equipment captured at a German ultrasonic research station in Brunswick.

At least two powerful wind tunnels are planned, in which models will be tested to guide the experts in their investigation of supersonic flight, and these are largely responsible for the heavy cost of the project.

EQUAL TO CITY

Wind tunnels which work up to and beyond the speed of sound need an immense amount of power to drive their fans and keep them cool.

Consequently, the Bedford station when working at peak load will use at least 200,000 horsepower or about the same as a city like Manchester, with a population of nearly 750,000.

It requires 120,000 horsepower to drive air through a large wind tunnel at a speed of 1,500 miles an hour.

The five-mile runway is to en-

With the cost of living so high, Certo is grand news for jam and jelly makers. The merest beginner can use Certo knowing her jams and jellies will turn out right. And she'll get one-half as much again from her fruit.

These results are easier to understand when you realize that Certo is actually the natural substance in fruit which causes jams to "jam" and jellies to "jell". It's ex-

Does Not Believe Another War Coming

HORDEN, Durham, Eng. (Reuter)—War Secretary Emanuel Shinwell said Sunday that although there is much that is explosive in the present situation in Berlin, nobody wishes to fire the first shot, and he did not think anybody would.

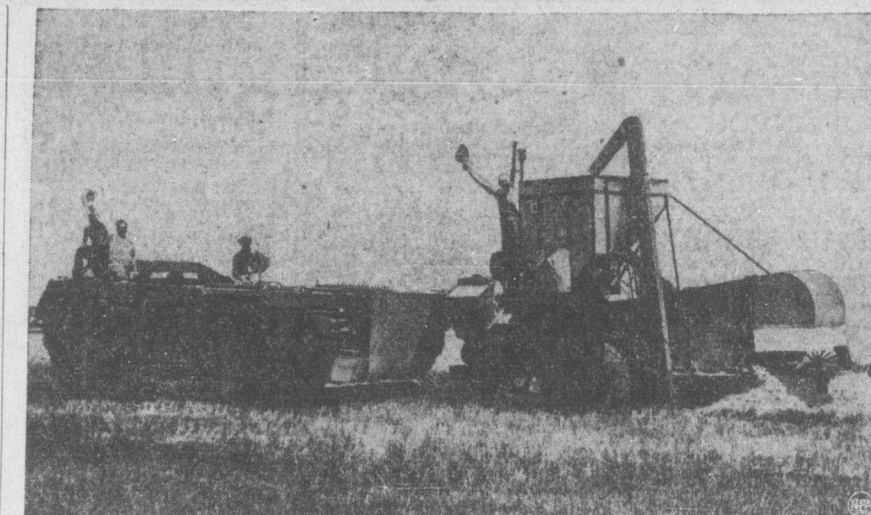

To talk about another war three years after the last one, Shinwell told a Labor Party meeting, was a sad commentary on the Atlantic Charter. It was surely wrong to assume that because countries differed on ideological grounds they must go to war some day. If this view were accepted then "we will be heading for a great disaster."

Billy Conn May Be Planning Comeback

DALLAS (AP)—Billy Conn, who twice tried to lick Joe Louis and failed, indicates by his silence that he may go after the heavyweight boxing title again.

Conn arrived in Dallas during the week-end for a month's visit with his friend, Bob Fletcher. At first he denied reports that he would try for the title, then changed his tune to this:

"Just say I'm not talking."

FARMER MAKES A BEACHHEAD IN A WHEAT FIELD—Billy Koelsch, St. John, Kan., wheat farmer, hitched his combine to a war surplus landing barge when heavy rains made his fields too muddy for ordinary tractors. Koelsch's ingenuity saved his wheat crop, which yielded about 30 bushels to the acre. With regular equipment, he would have had to wait another week before he could harvest.

Black Market Population Problem In West Germany

Frankfurt (Reuter)—German administrators here believe that a specially-supervised labor scheme may be needed to assist in the rehabilitation of western Germany's "black market" population, estimated by some of them at 1 per cent of the total 40,000,000.

Large numbers of Germans, chiefly young people, have lived for years without proper identity papers or a registered address. They lead a vagrant life and subsist chiefly on black market activities, petty thieving and, in the case of girls, on uncontrolled prostitution.

TAKE THEIR MONEY
The police, unable to imprison them all and frequently themselves corrupt, have played cat and mouse with them, arresting them and releasing them after a night in jail minus their goods and money, without changing their evasive outside the law.

Now currency reform is driving this "black" underground population into the open.

Most of the "blacks" have not been able to change their money as they had no identity or ration cards with which to establish their identity.

Increasing numbers of the street-corner population are trying to report to the authorities in search of honest work—and are meeting with plenty of administrative obstacles.

No one can get a job anywhere unless he is either registered there or has obtained permission to "move in." Naturally, no local authority, harassed by housing troubles, is willing to give this permission to people who have not been registered before and have lived on the fringe of the law.

Yet if they cannot find a place and a job now, the chance of rehabilitation will be missed.

One suggestion plan is to create rehabilitation teams which will jointly be allocated to some particular job and give some form of emergency billet.

At the end of a trial period, those "probationers" who had done well be given permanent residential permits by local authorities, and achieve a start on their way back to normal life.

Washington Talks May Result In Atlantic Union

OTTAWA (CP)—Diplomatic sources here don't look for any early, concrete results from the talks in Washington among Canada, the United States and the five defence-pooling nations of Europe's Western Union.

At the same time, they regard the talks as "highly" important in that they may lead to an Atlantic union aimed at stemming the rise of Communism. This would be in the nature of a regional defence league under the United Nations' charter.

However, there may be three or four months of highly-secret discussions before any decisive point is reached. At the moment, the talks are among ambassadors and state officials and have not reached governmental status. Nor will they enter that realm for some time. So far, the point has not been reached, either, where military advisers are present.

The discussions were opened by the United States government two weeks ago. They came after External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, in an important policy statement to the Canadian Commons, called upon the free nations to band into a security league to meet the Communist threat.

Besides Canada and the United States, the countries taking part are Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. Other countries may be called in later.

$333.81 Raised For Disabled Vets

A total of $333.81 was raised for the Canadian Pensioners' Association from Saturday's tag day here, according to R. C. Keane, secretary.

Although collections were down from those of the previous year, Mr. Keane thanked the public and taggers for their help.

The tag day is the only revenue for the group, and the proceeds are used to help disabled veterans of both wars, their wives and children, the secretary noted in his report.

Search For Clues In Calgary Murder

CALGARY (CP)—Police today were exhausting every possible lead in a search for new clues to the solution of the 19-year-old murder of Thomas Charles Hall, whose body was discovered in a "spook-riden" cottage in Calgary more than a week ago.

Main hopes of an early "break" in the case appeared today to hinge on investigations now under way by police into the dead man's financial transactions prior to his death and observations that may have been made by Hall's neighbors between March and June, 1929.

Police are trying to close the gap of information on happenings in and around the brown, five-room cottage between Hall's disappearance in March, 1929, and June of the same year, when it was rented out again.

Body of the well-built, six-foot teamster was found under the back bedroom floor of the shins-

gle-sided cottage nine days ago. The body was discovered by the new owner of the building while he was investigating a weak spot in the floor. He started checking the building when his three young children complained there were "spooks" in the building.

The eldest of Hall's three sons, Fred E. Hall of Cadillac, Que.,

and his estranged wife, Camilla Rose Hall of Vancouver, are expected to return to their homes following an inquest into the death. Both came to Calgary voluntarily to assist police investigations. Date of the inquest still is unknown, but it is expected to be held sometime this week.

Hundreds Attend Dedication Of Pavilion

Portion of the large gathering at Beacon Hill Park Sunday when the James O. Cameron Memorial Pavilion was officially dedicated. Following the opening, the band, under the direction of H. J. Bigsby, gave an entertaining concert.

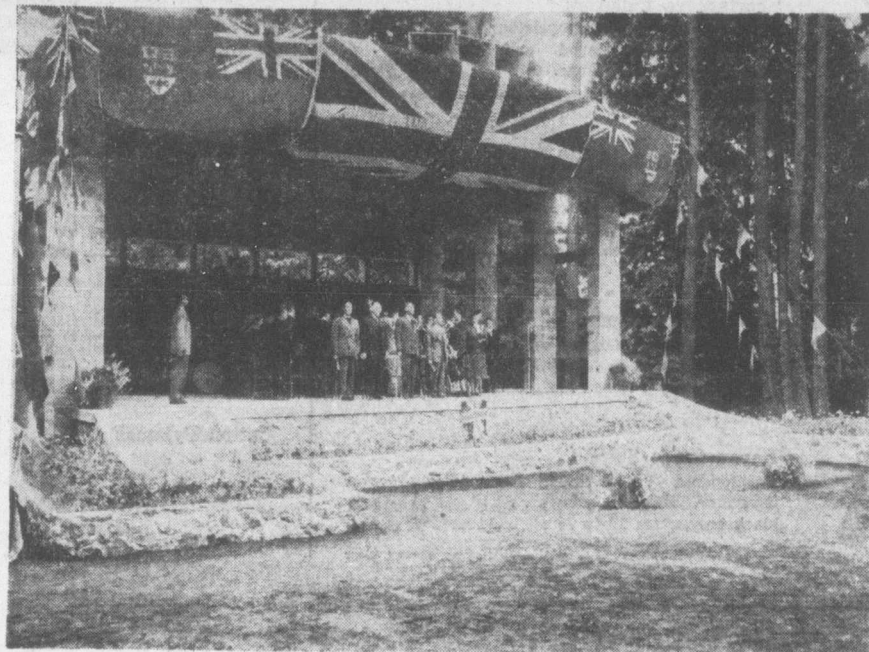

Strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," honoring Mrs. Beatrix Cameron, who was born in Tennessee and came to Victoria 42 years ago, opened the dedication service of the James O. Cameron Memorial Pavilion in Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon.

In accepting the pavilion on behalf of the City of Victoria, Alderman Aubrey Kent, chairman of the parks committee, spoke of Mrs. Cameron's keen interest in civic affairs, especially pertaining to things musical and educational and remarked that six years ago she had become a Canadian citizen. He also spoke of the former Beacon Hill bandstands, the first of which occupied the site of the Chinese Bell, apparently some 50 or 75 years ago. The bandstand familiar to present-day Victoria, was built in 1922, but in recent years its inadequacy had been fully realized. There had, however, been no funds available to remedy the situation until Mrs. Cameron proffered her generous gift as a memorial to her late husband.

Alderman Kent was introduced by Mayor Percy George. Following Mr. Kent's introduction, Mrs. Cameron unveiled the commemorative plaque and gave a brief address in which she described how, going about the park in her electric wheel chair when she had first received it from her son in California, she had enjoyed things she had not seen for a long time, and especially the Sunday band concerts. She had asked Parks Superintendent Warren what she could do as a permanent memorial of her pleasure and he had told her about the bandmasters' complaints over the smallness of the existing bandstand. It had been her wish to build an outdoor theatre, and Mrs. Cameron referred rather whimsically to the heated discussion that had raged over this proposal.

The new pavilion was an enlargement on the band shell idea and the donor hoped that it would have many years of service, not only for bands, but for symphony orchestras and other groups. She referred also to her late husband's interest in community projects and to her own affectionate loyalty as a Canadian citizen.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. William Hills and was followed by the singing of the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," led by Arthur Stringer. The Victoria Parks Board Band, conducted by Bandmaster Harry J. Bigsby, played several selections, opening with the march, "Vanished Army," which was played more than 20 years ago at the opening of the old bandstand. They also played a medley of Scottish airs, dedicated to the benefactress, Mrs. Cameron. Soloist for the occasion, Mr. Stringer, sang the stirring marching song from the "Vagabond King"—"Stout Hearted Men."

General view of new pavilion, located near the old bandstand in Beacon Hill Park, with officials on the platform at opening Sunday afternoon.

Ald. M. Aubrey Kent addresses the audience at the dedication. Also on the platform, left to right: Rev. Wm. Hills, Ald. F. J. Mulliner, Mayor Percy George, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Ald. Margaret Christie. Following the dedication service, Mrs. Cameron received the personal thanks and congratulations of many friends among the several thousand persons present. The afternoon was concluded with the regular band concert program.

MANY KINDS OF SPONGES ARE FOUND IN THE OCEAN

There was a time when almost every bathtub was fitted with a sponge. The use of sponges for bathing, however, has become less widespread because tests have shown that sponges tend to serve as "germ catchers."

Sponges, however, still have a big place in trade. They often are employed in washing automobiles, and for scrubbing or polishing various objects.

Several thousand kinds of sponges are known, but only about a dozen of them find their way to the markets of the world. Those sold to the public include the velvet sponge, the elephant's ear, the honeycomb, the glove sponge and the grass sponge.

Among the many other kinds are the mermaid's glove, the sea fig, the branched finger sponge, and Neptune's cup.

Neptune's cup is very large. It often reaches a height of four feet, and at times looks like the stump of an old, hollow tree. The name came from the fancy that Neptune, the Roman god of the sea, used it as a cup.

Neptune's cups live deep in the ocean, sometimes being found at depths of more than two miles.

There are lace sponges, fan sponges, bead sponges and sack sponges. One kind is called the crumb-o'-bread, another the Venus flower basket.

Roman soldiers of long ago used sponges as padding under their helmets. Other Romans fastened them to sticks and used them for mopping floors, also for paint brushes.

For more than 2,000 years sponges were classed as plants, and were compared to seaweeds. A century and a quarter ago, however, a scientist named Robert Grant made tests which brought out the fact that sponges are animals.

In one test, Grant sprinkled the water near some sponges with colored powder, and watched the powder as it was carried into holes in the sponges and passed out the other side.

Tiny, waving hairs keep water moving in and out of a sponge. Bits of food are obtained from the water as it goes through.

Buds come off the body of a sponge, and these swim after a fashion, before they fasten themselves to objects of one kind or another. The sponges sold on the market are the dried bodies, or skeletons, of sponges.

Oak Bay Golfers Win

Victoria Golf Club defeated Seattle Golf Club by a margin of four points in their home-and-home interclub match which concluded at Seattle yesterday.

The local club went into the match with an 11-point lead garnered here earlier in the year but it was Colin Rutherford's putt on the 18th hole that sewed up the match for the Oak Bay team. Both Rutherford and Dr. George Bigelow shot one-over-par 74's.

Trade Pact Talks After U.S. Election

OTTAWA (CP)—There is little likelihood of discussions being opened on a new trade agreement between Canada and the United States until after the Republic's presidential election in November.

The current trade treaty is due for reshaping in the light of changes and concessions made in trading practices in the Geneva trade agreement signed by countries last year.

The two governments are understood to be anxious to start discussions toward a new treaty, but the Americans are said to feel it would be better, from their viewpoint, to defer the talks until after the presidential balloting.

Plan To License Chimney Builders

As a safeguard against fire resulting from poorly constructed chimneys, the Esquimalt council will consider revising its building by-law when it meets tonight. Plan for the amendment will be submitted by works superintendent E. Fulcher.

The suggested revision provides for permits to be issued for building of chimneys, with only skilled persons to be licensed.

Mr. Fulcher also has recommended, in answer to Councillor Alex Spiers' complaint that the flag on the municipal hall was not raised and lowered daily, that a new flag pole be erected on the entrance porch and that the one atop the building only be used on ceremonial occasions.

Canadian Troops Praised At Unveiling Of Memorial

CROWBOROUGH, Sussex, Eng. (CP)—On a hillside overlooking bomb-torn ground, Sir James Grigg, former War Secretary, Saturday unveiled a memorial plaque to nine men of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment who died July 5, 1944, when a flying bomb exploded in a Canadian army camp here.

Sir Horace Williamson, chairman of the committee responsible for the erection of the memorial, read messages from Winston Churchill, wartime Prime Minister, and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff.

Churchill's message read: "It is right that we should remember for all time what the Canadians did for the cause of freedom and for us in the days of our great trials."

Viscount Montgomery messaged: "It is with a deep sense of respect and gratitude that we in Britain remember the gallant actions fought by our Canadian comrades-in-arms. This memorial commemorates nine of Canada's soldiers, killed by a flying bomb while training in England."

"It would have been their dearest wish to have been spared to fight in the battles in Normandy and northwest Europe. This was denied them. Nevertheless they played their part and made the supreme sacrifice in the cause of the Allies."

Sir Edward told a large crowd: "More than once I said, and I should like to repeat now, that we in this country as a whole did not give sufficient honor to Canada for what she was doing."

FIRST TO ARRIVE

"The reason for this was, I think, that the Canadians, the earliest of the Commonwealth forces to arrive in this country, were for a long time engaged in the defence of the United Kingdom against an invasion which never came."

"When the threat of invasion passed, the Canadian government was anxious that its forces should fight together as a single army. This meant that except for Dieppe they did not in the early years of the war have the opportunity of actual combat that the other Dominions had."

"I know that this created great disappointment among the Cana-

Seerey Equals Record With Four Home Runs

James Patrick Seerey of Chicago White Sox took his place in major league baseball's record book yesterday alongside such illustrious home-run sluggers as Lou Gehrig, Ed Delahanty, Bobby Lowe and Chuck Klein.

The jut-jawed, barrel-chested outfielder slammed four home runs in one game to become the fifth big leaguer to achieve the feat.

This one-man slugging rampage overshadowed other important Sunday results such as Cleveland's sweep of a doubleheader from Washington, 2 to 1 and 6 to 4, to increase its first-place lead in the American League to 1½ games, and Boston Braves' two triumphs over Pittsburgh, 10 to 2 and 3 to 1, which gave them an eight-game bulge in the National League pennant race.

Seerey belted his four home runs in an 11-inning game in which the White Sox defeated Philadelphia Athletics 12 to 11 in the first game of a doubleheader. The A's captured the five-inning second game, 6 to 1.

Three of Seerey's circuit clouts came in successive innings—the fourth, fifth and sixth. The fourth snapped an 11 to 11 tie in the 11th. His first two were off righthander Carl Scheib. The third came off righthander Bob Savage. Southpaw Lou Brissie, the losing pitcher, was the victim of the last.

Seerey just missed hitting four home runs three years ago. In a game in 1945 when Pat was with the Cleveland Indians he socked three four-baggers and a triple at Yankee Stadium.

WINS FIRST START

Nelson Potter and Jeff Heath, two former American Leaguers, led the Braves to victory over the pirates in the opener of their twin bill. Potter, the crafty righthander, spaced seven hits for his first National League victory in his initial start. Heath clouted a grand-slam homer to spark a five-run, first-inning against Elmer Riddle.

In the second game, Ralph Kiner hit his 26th home run of the season and the 100th of his career.

Cleveland nosed out Washington twice to gain a full game on the second-place Athletics and the third-place Yankees. The Nats took an early 3 to 0 lead on Bob Feller who pitched the first five innings of the second game, but the Indians came back to win by scoring two runs in the 12th.

Hal Newhouse gained his 14th victory of the season, pitching Detroit Tigers to a 5 to 3, first-game victory over the Yankees before 62,990 fans. A grand-slam home run by Hoot Evers enabled the Tigers to overcome a 3 to 1 deficit.

The Yankees, behind lefty Tommy Byrne, swamped the Tigers 12 to 4 in the second game. The game was halted after 6½ innings because of darkness.

The fourth-place Boston Red Sox moved within 2½ games of the Yankees by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from St. Louis Browns, 12 to 5 and 7 to 6.

The Dodgers and the Cardinals divided a doubleheader which left them still tied for second place. A home run by Terry Moore with two mates aboard in the 11th gave the Cards a 6 to 3

Betty Mitchell Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game For Ladysmith

Ladysmith Merchants made it three in a row over Seattle in their exhibition softball series over the week-end by taking both ends of Sunday's twin bill, 4 to 0 and 4 to 1 from the American nine. Ladysmith won Saturday's game, 8 to 2.

Betty Mitchell making her first start of the year for the Merchants tossed a perfect game in the Sunday morning tilt as not one Seattle runner reached first base. It was a no-run, no-hit, no-walk contest for the young Nanaimo twirler who only got the mound nomination because one of the regular pitchers failed to turn up.

In the nightcap Balance let the visitors down with six scattered blows while Ladysmith was picking up 13 from the Seattle hill staff.

Tillicums Win Two In Minor Ball Loop

Tillicums captured both ends of their Sunday twin bill in the Minor Baseball Association by defeating Grenks, 19 to 9, in the first game and edging Fletcher's Men's Shop, 12 to 9, in the after-piece.

Eagles bounced Poodle Dog Cafe, 13 to 1, in another first game while the cafemmen came back to take the nightcap from Grenks, 13 to 3.

Remainder of the schedule follows:

July 22-6.30, Ace Woodworkers vs. Eagles, lower Beacon Hill; Tillicums vs. Fletcher's Men's Shop, upper Beacon Hill. July 25-1.15, Fletcher's vs. Tillicums, lower Beacon Hill; Ace Woodworkers vs. Grenks, upper Beacon Hill; 3, Eagles vs. Ace Woodworkers, lower Beacon Hill; Poodle Dog Cafe vs. Grenks, upper Beacon Hill.

July 28-6.30, Ace Woodworkers vs. Poodle Dog Cafe, lower Beacon Hill; Grenks vs. Eagles, upper Beacon Hill.

Retire Mel Ott's No. 4 Uniform

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Horace Stoneham, president of New York Giants, announced Saturday that Mel Ott's uniform with the big No. 4 on its back has been permanently retired.

The former Giant manager, in 22 seasons with the Giants, hammered out 511 home runs, a National League record.

Leo Durocher, who supplanted Ott at the Giants' helm, asked for and received his old No. 2 uniform. Coach Red Kress, who had worn that number all season, gladly relinquished it.

Wins Irish Oaks

DUBLIN (AP)—The Aga Khan picked up another "classic" race Sunday as Masaka, his three-year-old bay filly, won the Irish Oaks at the Curragh track. Masaka, which won the Oaks at Epsom in June, was an even money favorite.

Princess Aly Khan's Amina was second with Mrs. W. Bryant's Sun Lane third.

Scroggs, Gowan Win City Golf Buttons

Frank Scroggs and Don Gowan of Uplands Golf Club captured the city golf buttons from Bill McColl and Vic Painter of Colwood yesterday, winning 3 and 2.

In the junior button match the Uplands pair of Jim Ranson and Gordon Dods retained the honor by turning back the challenge of Laurie Kerr and D. McCooey of Colwood, 1 up. Best ball for the winners was 75 and for the losers 76. Next challengers are Dave Panthorpe and Lawrence Carol of Gorge Vale.

Douglas Tire Capture Softball Crown

Trim Timber Service In Sudden-Death Tilt; Meet Bluebird Cabs Tonight

Manager Jim Lackie came up with another Senior A Men's Softball League championship yesterday afternoon when his Douglas Tire nine hammered out a 7 to 2 win over Timber Service in a sudden-death game. The teams finished league play tied for first.

The Tremen now take on the fourth-place Bluebird Cabs tonight at 6:45 in the first game of a best three out of five series.

Wednesday night Timber Service and Brentwood Aces open a three out of five series in the other semifinal.

Yesterday's game was played before the largest crowd of the season. The fans had their fill of action as the players on both teams were keyed up and errors were made on plays that would be routine with nothing at stake on the outcome.

Billy Duncan of Timber Service was the first batter in the game. He hit a high fly to right field that Ray Byers misjudged and Duncan ended up at third base on the error, later scoring on Jack Okell's single.

Joe Bryant started on the hill for the Lumbermen and right from the first inning you couldn't help but sense that sooner or later Douglas Tire were going to score a rash of runs as their batters were lining out a lot of his pitches but they were going for outs.

DALE HITS HOMER

In the bottom of the third Don Robinson reached first on an error by the opposing shortstop. Vic Dale stepped up and hit the longest home run of the season putting his team ahead 2 to 1.

Both teams went scoreless for two innings. In the sixth Henry Harris went for three bases as Joe Travis dropped his high fly. Chick Newman was safe on a fielder's choice. Ab Ellis walked, loading the bases. Norm Martin came in to relieve Bryant and

Ken, Gunter, the first man to face him popped up behind second base. Harris scored after the catch. Milliken let the relay get away and Newman scored with Ellis going to third. Byers singled to plate another run. Dale got his third hit of the game, a double, and Byers scored to put Timber Service on the small end of a 6 to 1 score.

George Barnes scored the last run for the losers in the seventh as they combined two hits with two errors.

Ellis connected with his second hit of the game, a home run, that landed in the trees in left field. Joe Travis, who had a very busy day in the outfield, was caught unawares as the ball bounced back off the trees towards home and by the time he retrieved it Ellis had scored.

ROBINSON OUTSTANDING

Ken Gunter hurled another masterpiece scattering six hits and his teammates behind him completed two double plays. Don Robinson, Tremen's rookie third baseman, sparked the infield with his play.

Vic Dale led the batters with three for four, a single, double and home run, and batted in three runs.

A's Engage Salem, Yakima This Week

Glad to get away from the confines of Bob Brown's band-box at Vancouver, after salvaging one of four games, Victoria Athletics were in Salem today ready to open a four-game series tonight against the sixth-place Senators from Salem the A's move over to Yakima for another four-game set, opening Friday. They return home a week today to engage Spokane.

Lenny Kasparovitch and Archie Wilson starred in their respective roles Saturday night as A's came through to capture what proved the best game of the series, between the two Canadian clubs, 2 to 1. Caps took their third straight in the afternoon, 8 to 4.

Night game had every indication of being a slugfest affair as the A's blasted out four hits in the first two innings and the Caps lashed out three safeties in the first frame, but pitchers Kasparovitch and Carl Gunnarson settled down from then on and the game was airtight until the last out.

After Charlie Balassi grounded out to open the game, Vic Bucola singled, stole second and scored when Wilson unleashed his first hit off Gunnarson, a smashing two-bagger. Caps tied the score in their half, however, as Frank Mullens got on with a fielder's choice and made the cycle on successive singles by Bill Reese and Charlie Mead.

WINNING BLOW

It was in the third that Archie Wilson became the hero when he lined a fast one out of the park for the run that decided the game.

Kaspy received errorless support from his mates and ran into trouble only in the sixth and ninth innings, but some clever strategy by Ted Norbert in passing such dangerous hitters as Jack Warren and Frank Mullens paid off and the A's stopped a potential Caplano winning streak.

In the afternoon affair, locals held a 4 to 3 lead on single tallies in the third and fourth and a pair in the fifth, but Vancouver came back with two in the fifth after opening the game with three tallies in the last of the opening stanza. Another trio in the sixth gave Vancouver their four-run margin. Del Owens was tagged the loser, giving up six of the Caps runs in his five-inning stint, and was relieved by Joe Blankenship in the sixth. Blankenship was off and retired in favor of southpaw Jim Propst, who finished out the game.

Wilson had four hits in eight trips to lead the A's at the plate, while Joe Kanczy, a source of annoyance to Victoria pitchers during the seven-game series, led the Caps with five hits in 10 trips.

GAMES SUNDAY

Even a red-hot pennant fight couldn't keep the rain away from Tacoma yesterday and the Tigers' doubleheader with runner-up Bremerton was postponed. Tacoma holds a bare half-game lead.

Salem jumped on Wenatchee twice, 7 to 0 and 6 to 5 to climb over the Chiefs into sixth place. Spokane and Yakima divided, Spokane besting the Packers 7 to 3 but losing an 11-inning nightcap, 6 to 5.

Rochon Beaten Again In Quebec Tennis

QUEBEC (CP)—In a match played between showers, the veteran men's double pair of Edgar P. Lantheir and D. Gordon MacNeill successfully defended their title Sunday, defeating Henri Rochon and Rene Buser, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2, 9-7 in the all-Montreal finals of the Quebec senior open tennis tournament.

In the only other final completed before the weather finally broke Saturday, Brendan Macken dethroned Rochon in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0 to win the singles open in a masterful performance. Rochon simply was no match for Macken who played a superlative game.

Olympic Games Will Be Success—Lord Burghley

LONDON (Reuter)—The 1948 Olympic Games are "going to be a success from every point of view," Lord Burghley, former Olympic champion and now the key man of the coming games in his role of chairman of the organizing committee, said today.

"I am happy to have this opportunity of saying that a very warm welcome awaits the teams and officials from the 62 nations that are coming to London for this great festival of amateur sport," he said in an interview.

"There has, I think, been in the past in this country a great tradition of sportsmanship and kindly hospitality. I can assure you that it is the aim of the whole of the great British sports-loving public to live up to this reputation on this occasion.

"All the officials and competitors that have already arrived seem fully imbued with the true Olympic spirit. They realize we cannot hold the games on the level we should have done under normal conditions. But from what I have heard, Britain has no reason to be afraid of comparisons between any former Olympic Games, even that in Berlin, with that which we are staging," he said.

Lord Burghley seemed particularly pleased with the Olympic spirit which prompted so many countries to send presents to the organizing committee.

CEMENT TIES

As one who competed in the Olympic Games, Lord Burghley, winner of the 400-metre hurdles in 1928 at Amsterdam, has had first-hand experience of these sporting festivals. Lord Burghley said he was convinced that they "cement" rather than weaken" the ties between different countries and peoples.

San Diego Splits Sunday Twin Bill; Attendance Mark

Those early season cracks heard in some quarters about San Diego not being up to the ambitious Coast League's standards were being swallowed today.

The Padres were only one game out of first place after dividing shutout wins, 4 to 0 and 7 to 0 with Sacramento yesterday and, with the season less than two-thirds gone, boasted a new attendance record.

A crowd of 7,375 watching the Padres clinch the series, six games to three, brought the Lane

Jack Graham—the big reason why the Padres have never had it so good—clouted his 44th home run to conduct Tom Seals to his three-hit victory in the opener.

Southpaw Edgar Smith halted the Padres' six-game win streak with a five-hit whitewash in the nightcap.

OAKLAND SPLITS

Oakland held its slim lead by defeating Hollywood 9 to 4 in the first game and assuring a four-three series edge.

The Stars salvaged the finale 13 to 5, blasting 15 hits in six innings.

Los Angeles concluded a six-two series rout of San Francisco with an 8 to 4, 9 to 2 twin win. The Angels hopped back into third place—2½ games off the pace and a game ahead of the Seals.

Dick Barrett racked up his 200th win in a Seattle uniform with a 1 to 0 triumph over Portland. The Beavers took the nightcap 7 to 4, to clinch the series, five-three.

Palaces Trim Foul Bay, Jokers In Boxla Tilts

Nanaimo Palaces boxla team increased its lead in the Island Lacrosse League with a pair of week-end victories. At the up-island centre on Saturday night they handed Jokers a 15 to 6 setback, and traveled to Victoria yesterday afternoon for an 11 to 6 win over Foul Bay.

Saturday's game saw the Palaces build up a good first-half margin while holding Jokers to a lone marker. In the second half the teams each netted five goals as up-islanders coasted to victory.

Manson and Don White each scored four times for winners, with Ellis bagging three for Jokers.

Yesterday at Stevenson Park the coalowners avenged the defeat they suffered a week ago on their home floor by handing the Toledo Scales squad a decisive loss.

Nanaimo's Jimmy Rice, Wes Manson and Jimmy Gold each tallied once in the opening stages of the game before Denny Shubrooke replied for the Victorians. Gold then notched his second marker to give Palaces a 4 to 1 edge, but two successive counters by Al Hudson cut the lead to one goal at the quarter.

Visitors outscored the locals in the second frame as both Rice and Manson scored their second goals. Frank Gower got the single Gonzales count to leave the halftime score at 6 to 4 for Nanaimo.

SECOND HALF

Peter Good opened the scoring for the Menzies crew after the rest session and was followed by Manson, giving Nanaimo an 8 to 4 margin. Shubrooke then counted Foul Bay's fifth goal and Earl Bennie rang up number nine for Nanaimo as the third period ended.

In the final stanza, Rice and Gold finished off the day's scoring for the Palacemen and Ian Taylor wrote final to the Gonzales counting, which saw the score read 11 to 6 in Nanaimo's favor.

Gold, Manson and Rice all netted a trio for the winners, while Shubrooke and Hudson of losers contributed a pair apiece. Only one minor penalty was handed out in the contest, that to Nanaimo.

Line-ups: Nanaimo—Fulla, R. Bennie, Good, I. Menzies, Dorman, Gold, S. Manson, 3. Potts, R. Bennie, 1. Rice, 3. P. White, Cooke.

Foul Bay—Thompson, L. Scott, Gower, 1. Taylor, 1. Halbert, Chugranes, Newman, W. Scott, Sage, J. Thompson, Shubrooke, 2. Thomas, Hudson, 2.

Phillies Undecided On New Manager

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies want the "right man" to manage the club in its fight to hit the first division for the first time since 1932.

Owner Bob Carpenter and the remainder of the Phillies' front office executives were back in town today after making the announcement Friday that Ben Chapman was being dismissed as manager of the club.

A spokesman for the Phils' management said the new manager will not come from the Phils' organization.

Quiet and subdued, the erstwhile fiery Chapman told reporters that "some day I'm going to find out why I was fired."

Minor Ball Team Honored

George Woollett, captain of the Knights of Pythias championship baseball team of the Bantam League, receives the league trophy from Roy Shields, president of the Victoria Minor Baseball Association, at the wind-up to Minor Baseball Week at Athletic Park Saturday afternoon.

Minor Baseball Day Big Success; Carey Wins Trip

Athletic Park was turned over to the minor baseballers Saturday afternoon and evening in the grand wind-up to "Minor Baseball Week" and although the crowd was on the disappointing side for the woodenface finals and the well-played juvenile baseball game under the lights, the kids put on a good show.

Gordon Carey, winner of the woodenface competition in 1945, came through with another championship performance in Saturday's finals and won the week's road trip with the Victoria Athletics as grand prize for his winning tosses.

Billy Abbott, 11-year-old star, finished in the runner-up position with Chris Carey, brother of Gordon, in third place. For winning the woodenface competition Gordon Carey was also presented with a trophy.

In a special competition for girls held following the boys' final, June Orchard was declared winner.

Mrs. "Slim" Hunt, wife of umpire-in-chief of the woodenface competition, was presented with a lamp by the Minor Baseball Association.

George Cole, secretary of the Minor Baseball Association, Roy Shields, president, and Hunt thanked the fans for their patronage of baseball week and the regular games during the season. Hunt pointed out that the slogan of the Minor Association was "we make majors out of minors."

TILlicums WIN

Feature game of the triple baseball bill presented was the juvenile game under the arcs at night in which Tillicums rallied for 12 runs in the seventh inning to defeat Eagles 16 to 9.

Eagles jumped into an early lead in the first three innings, scoring three runs in the second and another trio in the third. Hugh Johnston's two-run homer to right field highlighted the opening outburst in the second frame.

After Eagles had punched across a singleton in the top of the fifth to move ahead 7 to 0, Tillicums finally got to Ken Higgs of Eagles for four runs in the bottom of the inning. The birdmen tallied a lone run in the first of the seventh.

Ron McLeod replaced Higgs on the mound for Eagles in the sixth inning and was the victim of the clubmen's big inning in the seventh.

Ray Hanson started the rally off with a double to the fence. Dale Kilshaw singled, Gordie Pynn walked and successive one-baggers by Russ Stearn and Bill Robinson scored four runs. After Art Green had fled out and Dem McGee was retired on a sacrifice hit, Higgs was called back in to quell the uprising, but Tillicums then unloaded four successive singles combined with a base on balls and an interference call against catcher Woolcock of Eagles to complete the rout.

Emery, the 16th batter to go to the plate in the inning, finally grounded out but not before a total of 12 runs had crossed the plate.

HEAVY HITTERS

Leading sticker for the winners were Hanson with three for three including a double and triple, and Kilshaw and Robinson each with

Jerry Vantreight Takes Main Event At Speedway

It was the local boys' night to howl at Langford Speedway Saturday night, and howl they did. Leading the chorus was the No. 6 car driver, Jerry Vantreight, who drove the most spectacular race of his career of speed, in the 30-lap main event of Bruce Passmore's International major car race meet.

The Victoria boy went like wild-fire to take top honors in the contest.

He started eighth in a field of 11 in the feature contest and worked his way gradually to the lead, taking over the top spot from Brownie Brown in the No. 3 car on the 29th lap to be heralded first with the cheers of the throng.

REAL THRILLER

It was a real thriller. Brown sat out in front for 24 laps before Jerry put the skids to him. Brown started fourth in the event and was sitting on top by the fifth lap. He wheeled his big red wagon like a veteran and was sitting pretty until Vantreight stole his stuff.

Brownie—they call him Harold in some circles—finished second in the event. Jack Spaulding in No. 15 was third; Don Olds in the Victoria No. 5 car (that's not the wagon in which he broke his track record the week before) was fourth; Vern Bruce in Passmore's No. 36 car was next, and Del Fanning of Seattle in the Pacific northwest championship car, the No. 1, was sixth.

Performances of the last two were disappointing. Bruce rolled in a 17.92 seconds time for the 1/4-mile track in the trials and Fanning was next fastest with 18.05. But neither showed any brilliance in the 30-lap feature.

GREEN NOT ON HAND

Pike Green's absence was a disappointment to the customers who anticipated a hot performance. Digger Caldwell, the local No. 1 car driver, had bad luck. The clutch went on his car in warm-up.

Bruce won the Helmet Dash, fending off Fanning all the way. The Seattle boy was second and Olds third. Time was 1.31.28.

Fanning was on top in the first heat race until the last lap when he had a bad spin which allowed

Bruce to take over the lead. Second to Bruce was Olds, and third was Howard Stanley in the No. 2 car. Time was 2.27.33.

CLOSE CONTEST

Vantreight won the second heat race. Stanley was second and Spaulding third. Time was 2.31.72.

Vantreight beat Stanley in the last 100 yards, nosing him on the inside by inches.

Spaulding walked away with the third heat race. Second was Fanning and third Brown. Time: 2.31.10.

SMASH-UP

Fourth heat race was taken by Brown and Bung Eng, the Chinese racer in No. 69 was second. Simpson was third. Time: 2.35.41.

On the second to last lap George Haslam in No. 9 cracked into Johnny Ellefson in the Seattle No. 63 car which put the visitor out of the meet. Eddie Kostenuk in No. 25 also hit Dave Cooper in No. 11, but no damage was done there.

Instructions On New Tax Exemptions Are Released

Considerable Damage In Mason St. Blaze

A fire, which firemen said was undoubtedly caused by smoker's carelessness, early today burned the dining-room, bedroom and kitchen of the home of S. Matthews, 1149 Mason Street.

Firemen, receiving a call from a neighbor at 12:38 this morning, found the three rooms of the house a mass of flames when they arrived on the scene. Flames were also shooting through the roof.

With the blaze controlled in about 10 minutes firemen spent more than two hours mopping up the fire which had hold in the walls, attic and room of the building.

Fighting the blaze were two trucks and crews directed by Assistant Chief C. Gwyer.

Firemen said the blaze undoubtedly started in a chesterfield chair in the dining-room. No one was in the house at the time the alarm was turned in.

Instructions to employers on the method of applying the recently granted additional $500 tax exemption for employees over 65 years of age were released today by J. Slade Stevens, of the local income tax office.

Each employee in this category will be required to complete and file with his employer a new exemption claim on form T.D. 1.

The birth date of the employee will be clearly stated at the top, and those born before or during the year 1883 may claim for the extra $500 exemption in addition to normal exemptions now allowable.

The additional exemption applies as from Jan. 1, 1945, and deductions for the balance of this year may be adjusted to allow for any over-deductions made since the first of the year.

350 Men Taking Part In Summer Training Program

This summer to date some 250 officer-candidates of the University Naval Training Division and about 100 men of the R.C.N. (reserve) have been drafted to various ships and courses under the summer training program, naval headquarters reported here today.

Cmdr. J. C. Littler, R.C.N., reserve training commander and his staff, are in charge of the training program on the West Coast.

Cmdr. Littler stated: "This year a fully organized, completely departmentalized reserve training scheme has been possible. By the end of the summer the R.C.N. (R) will be an up-to-date, well trained body of men."

An application for tax exemption on lands and buildings was made at City Hall today by the Open Door Spiritualist Church, 1600 Cook Street.

700,000-Box Gain Estimated This Year In B.C. Apple Pack

The provincial agriculture department today estimated British Columbia's 1948 apple harvest at 8,392,500 boxes, almost 700,000 boxes more than picked in 1947 but 1,500,000 boxes short of the all-time record harvest of 1946.

The Vancouver Island harvest is anticipated to total 24,000 boxes. Last year there were harvested on the island and Gulf Island 24,517 boxes.

In the Okanagan district it is estimated that the harvest this year will total 7,767,000 boxes. This compares with 7,064,599 boxes picked last year.

While the apple harvest in the Grand Forks area will be considerable less than last year, the department says, gains are anticipated for the lower mainland, Kootenay and Arrow Lakes and Creston districts.

The crabapple pick this year will total 172,511 boxes, the department estimates, compared with 120,925 boxes harvested last year.

A gain is also anticipated in the grape harvest, department officials placing the pick at an estimated 2,837,300 pounds. Last year's harvest totaled 2,313,204 pounds.

But the department says there will be less pears this year. While the 1947 pear harvest totaled 646,446 boxes, this year the pear harvest is estimated at 564,800 boxes.

Halifax At Polls On Beer, Wine Sale

HALIFAX (CP)—Haligonians went to the polls today to decide whether they want beer and wine served in taverns. It was the first vote under Nova Scotia's new liquor law, which provides for plebiscites to pave the way for establishment of taverns. "My visit was made in an attempt to improve the machinery of the migration scheme which will make farm workers available from Dutch families," Porter said.

The farmers are bound for southern Ontario. The Dutch will be allowed to take only a small sum of Canadian currency and will have to pay their passage in guilders.

Porter said he discussed with Dutch authorities the possibility of some future plan which would

Commission O.K.'s High Power Line In Vancouver

The Public Utilities Commission has granted the petition of the British Columbia Electric Co. Ltd. and its subsidiaries the right to place a high power transmission line along Boundary Road in Vancouver.

The commission's decision follows a hearing held in Vancouver. Residents of the Boundary Road area had objected to the line being placed there, contending it was unsightly, would cause interference on their radio sets and would depreciate the value of their properties. Some urged the wires be put underground.

The line, which will ultimately carry 600,000 horsepower of electric energy at 230,000 volts, is proposed to be the main conductor of Bridge River power to the mainland city. The conductors will be carried on 140-foot steel towers.

The order requires "that the B.C.E.R. maintain the area immediately about the base of the transmission towers in a neat and orderly manner and in keeping with the condition of the remainder of the boulevard."

The order also stipulates that Vancouver may apply to the commission at any time after five years for cancellation or revision of the order.

The motorist drove over the toys, crushing some of them.

New Movie At Royal Glorifies Ranch Life

With the opening today at the Royal Theatre of the Technicolor film of Mary O'Hara's best-seller, "Green Grass of Wyoming," Twentieth Century-Fox brings to a climax its highly successful series of pictures glorifying the thrills of ranch life and of galloping hooves. Set against the wild and exciting background of mountain range life, the current picture marks the eighth in which high-spirited and fleet-footed equines—thoroughbreds, trotters, pacers or steeplechase horses—play a lead part.

"Green Grass of Wyoming," which stars Peggy Cummins, Charles Coburn and Robert Arthur, combines the excitement of harness racing with wild horse and mountain ranch thrills.

The supporting cast includes Gloria Warren of "Always in My Heart" song fame, Charles Trowbridge, Frank Dae, Addison Richards, Phil Van Zandt and Tony Caruso. The Jeffrey Bernard production was directed by William Beaudine, and William Slicker was the photographer of the screen play by Harvey Gates and Caryl Coleman.

Picture At Rio Expose Of Gambling

Kane Richmond, Bernadene Hayes and Peter Cookson are the co-stars of Monogram's dramatic expose of crooked gambling, "Don't Gamble With Strangers," currently at the Rio Theatre.

The supporting cast includes Gloria Warren of "Always in My Heart" song fame, Charles Trowbridge, Frank Dae, Addison Richards, Phil Van Zandt and Tony Caruso. The Jeffrey Bernard production was directed by William Beaudine, and William Slicker was the photographer of the screen play by Harvey Gates and Caryl Coleman.

Without a single exception, Henry Blanke, producer of "Treasure of Sierra Madre," has adhered strictly to the book, a novel by B. Traven.

ODEON THEATRE
Orson Welles, co-founder with John Houseman of the famous Mercury Theatre of some years back, surrounded himself with Mercury veterans in Columbia's "The Lady From Shanghai," in which Rita Hayworth is his co-star. The film is now playing at the Odeon Theatre.

The two top supporting roles are taken by Everett Sloane and Glenn Anders, former Mercury troupers, with Ted de Corsia, Gus Schilling and Evelyn Ellis either former Mercury Theatre or Mercury Theatre of the Air players.

WONDERFUL WORK IN WARM WEATHER—Here's the perfect job during these summer heat waves. This workman, at the East Pittsburgh, Pa., plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, has the job of testing electrical apparatus in the 20-below-zero "cold laboratory." Wearing a special wool-lined suit, he winter-tests outdoor electrical equipment.

Oak Bay Defeats Incogs To Retain Lead In Cricket

Oak Bay retained top position in the Victoria and District Cricket League standings by edging Incogs 119 to 113 Saturday. Second engagement saw the Ex-R.A.F. turn back Five C's 57 to 47.

Harrison was the individual star for Oak Bay, by putting on 33 runs and capturing six Incogs wickets for 26 runs. Deane contributed 25 not out for the leaders while Sparks and Davis each had innings of 18.

Wenman brothers, Reg and Godfrey, made a game attempt to pull Incogs through. The former lifted six Oak Bay wickets for 41 runs and knocked out 25. Godfrey topped Incogs with 26 runs while Morgan had 21.

The low-scoring Flyers-C's fixture saw Jack Payne of the churchmen take seven wickets for 13 runs but his teammates had just as much trouble with opposing trundlers. Twamley took five wickets for 24 runs and Karries three for no score. Stanley of the Ex-R.A.F. was high bat with 23 runs. Seven ducks were distributed among the two teams.

Newbold's Second Goal Gives Scots B.C. Soccer Playoff

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrews Saturday won the right to represent British Columbia in the Dominion soccer championships when they edged Vancouver City, 3 to 2, in the second game of their best-of-three provincial finals. The Scots took the first match 5 to 1.

Winners started off at a fast clip and took an early 2 to 0 lead. Johnny Newbold from Jack Cowan, and Booley Greer from Wes Henderson and Bill Arthur, shot the goals.

At the 30-minute mark, the Greenshirts cut the margin in half when Pete Proctor converted a penalty kick against Johnny Webber for spilling Fred Whittaker.

TIE SCORE

City pressed from the opening second-half whistle and had the Scots on the run. The sustained attack finally paid off when Whittaker rapped in the equalizer after Goalie Bob Newbold allowed Jimmy Worswick's cross to slip through his arms.

Johnny Newbold scored the winner 10 minutes from time after a weak clearance by the City defence. Jackie Jones took

Movie 'Three Wives' Now Being Filmed Attacks Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The radio industry had better get ready for another attack from Hollywood. Still smarting from "The Hucksters" attack, radio will take another lacing in the currently shooting "Three Wives." A segment of the multi-starred film is aimed at soap operas. I guess the movies will be taking on television next.

STARS ROUNDUP

June Allyson, no doubt about it, is finally getting the recognition from M-G-M that her popularity deserves. She has a brand new queen-size portable dressing-room which she designed herself. She even has a bathroom in it, and to my knowledge, Greer Garson is the only other Hollywood star so honored.

Susan Hayward has a real vehicle in "Tulsa." For the first time in her career, she works every day of the picture. Her husband, Jess Barker, gets a big upswing for his career with the French Revolution film, "Reign of Terror." He'll have a meaty role.

TO TOUR EUROPE

Tony Martin will return next year for a six-week run at London's Palladium. He and Cyd Charisse plan an extended tour of Europe. Proposed and possible: Bob Roberts' production of "The Great Indiors" with Esther Williams and James Stewart. It could happen.

Linda Darnell may yet do "Anna Lucasta" at Columbia. She tells me the deal was all set, including permission from 20th-Fox, and then it suddenly fell through. She's still hoping... one extreme to another: Frankie Lane is breaking the Coconut Grove record held by Guy Lombardo, the former London, Ont., band leader.

'A Yank In London' Stars Anna Neagle

"The Rainbow Corner," the famous U.S. servicemen's "centre" that was to become the "Stork Club" of thousands of G.I.s in England; London's celebrated Grosvenor Square; and the rolling English countryside as well as a ducal town mansion and country estate serve as part of the background for a love story that bridges the Atlantic when "A Yank in London," the new 20th Century-Fox release, opens today at the York Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Mike Mazurki, battered-faced screen tough, plays his first comedy role in "The Noose Hangs High," with Abbott and Costello which is currently at the Capitol Theatre.

Mazurki, former prizefighter and wrestler, has been in several tough detective pictures, notably "Murder, My Sweet." In "The Noose Hangs High," Mazurki's hulking figure is a perfect comedy foil for squat Lou Costello.

To Name Head Of New Health Service

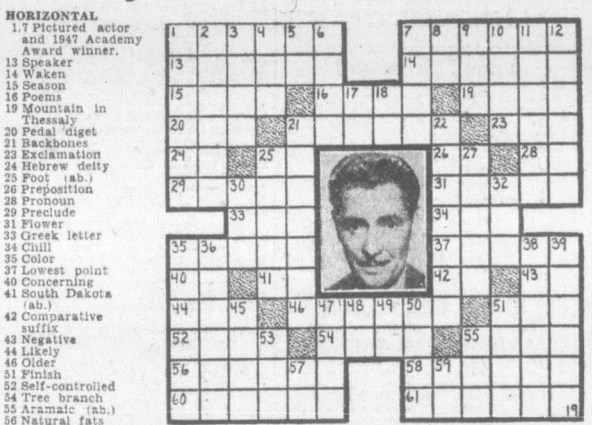

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Martin hopes to announce within a few days the name of the man selected as head of the national health service. The man has been chosen but so far hasn't definitely accepted the job and in the meantime his identity is a closely-guarded health department secret.

Originally, Mr. Martin and his officials hoped to make the announcement last week. The man is described only as "prominent and distinguished."

Meanwhile, the various Dominion-Provincial negotiations involved in creation of the health service are said by departmental officials to be progressing well. The groundwork should be finished this summer, they say.

"The public should begin to get some of the benefits of the service this year," Mr. Martin says.

Today's Crossword Puzzle

The DOCTOR Says:

ALCOHOLISM IS A DISEASE

Chronic alcoholics do not stop drinking, when they go on a spree, until they run out of money or become ill. One drink sets off the fireworks after a dry spell of weeks, months or years. Chronic alcoholism is a disease. It cannot be helped by scolding or incarceration. Most alcoholics are symptomatic drinkers who find release from their feelings through intoxication.

The old idea that one drink led to unlimited indulgence is not true in the majority of cases. Only a small percentage of those who indulge in alcoholic beverages become chronic alcoholics. This type can develop their difficulty at any time in life.

Alcoholics Anonymous members warn young men and women who wake up feeling fit as a fiddle the morning after the night before, that they may become victims of alcoholism. Apparently, such persons have a greater tolerance for alcohol than the average person, or it seems to give them a release from their inhibitions.

Chronic alcoholics should be distinguished from heavy drinkers. Men and women may drink to excess in connection with their social or business life. They may develop some tolerance for alcohol, but they do not find any escape through drink and would stop if circumstances permitted.

Alcoholics Anonymous, the organization which has been so successful in helping chronic alcoholics stay dry longer, insists that once an alcoholic always an alcoholic. They feel that their dry spells are prolonged as the result of the A.A. program, which helps them to stay sober but does not cure them.

Before alcoholics can be helped, they first must admit that they are alcoholics. If any drinker is in doubt about his own status, he may secure an opinion from a physician or a member of Alcoholics Anonymous.

When everyone appreciates that chronic alcoholism is a disease, a forward step will have been taken in the alcoholic's rehabilitation.

Question: My three-year-old child has bad tonsils. Is he too young to have them taken out?

Answer: The condition of the tonsils, and not the age of the child, is the most important consideration. As a general rule, the operation is not performed on very young children, because chronic infections of the tonsils are uncommon at this age.
